SAIGON (AP) — American B52 bombers rained almost four million pounds of bombs Friday and today in enemy positions, mostly in the Cambodian frontier area where the enemy has tried three times in three days to overrun border watching posts.

Ground fighting slackened but in one engagement in the northern war zone, the enemy shelled the Special Forces camp at Thuong Duc, 35 miles southwest of Da Nang, and attempted to overrun two small militia outposts nearby. Two Vietnamese defenders were reported killed and 11 wounded.

Allied forces around the country also continued to turn up enemy war supplies, including 54 tons of rice, 400 mortar shells and 20 cases of explosives and other equipment.

The B52s struck 11 times, mostly along a line that parallels the Cambodian frontier about 70 miles northwest of Saigon. One raid northwest of Tay Ninh City was within a few thousand yards of the frontier.

Allied intelligence officers said they were puzzled by the pattern of enemy maneuvers in this area. One estimate is that the enemy command does not now have forces in position for a major thrust at its ultimate goal, Saigon, and is harassing border outposts to draw out American and South Vietnamese while maneuvering main force units into striking positions.

The increased B52 raids in Tay Ninh Province appeared aimed at foiling such a strategy.

Elsewhere, U.S. troops reported killing 32 enemy troops, while seven Americans were killed and nine wounded in a fight near the Duc Lap Special Forces camp in the central highlands.

Marines of the 9th Regiment came under enemy fire 2,000 yards below the demilitarized zone and six were wounded, but the Leathernecks said they killed 12 of the enemy.

Meanwhile, South Vietnam's Education Ministry announced it would draft all eligible senior high school and university professors for nine weeks training beginning Oct. 14 before returning them to serve in local militia groups.

The draft, part of the new general mobilization, is expected to delay opening of some high schools and universities until mid-December when the teachers return.

The plan to draft teachers for only nine weeks was worked out between the ministries of education and defense several months ago in an effort to disturb the country's educational system as little as possible.

Some 1,500 junior high school teachers were drafted for nine weeks last July and will return to their classrooms in mid-October.

American headquarters reported an Air Force jet fighter-bomber and an Army light observation plane were shot down in South Vietnam, but all three crewmen were rescued.

A special team flew in to cut the Army pilot from the wreckage after helicopter gunships had silenced enemy fire in the area. An enlisted observer on the plane was rescued immediately after it was shot down 23 miles southwest of Da Nang.

The Air Force pilot parachuted to safety after his F100 Supersabre was shot down Friday along the central coast.

Headquarters reported that Navy pilots in strikes over North Vietnam Friday went back after a missile site northwest of Vinh and one Navy pilot put an air-to-ground missile right on the location—the second missile site blasted in two days. Several missiles have been fired at American pilots in the area recently.

Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots flew 118 missions over the North Friday and reported destroying or damaging 42 riverboats and 17 trucks.

Nixon HHH Toss Barbs Over Debate

Attention Focused On Issue; Bliss, Ball Flip Punches

By The Associated Press

Richard M. Nixon and Hubert H. Humphrey debated at long distance Friday on whether to debate face to face.

Humphrey said his Republican rival was trying to market himself as a political Brand X. The Democratic nominee, campaigning in Oregon, accused Nixon of displaying a lack of respect for voters by refusing to agree to a debate.

Nixon, speaking in Florida, said Humphrey was trying to use third-party candidate George C. Wallace to prevent Republican inroads in the South.

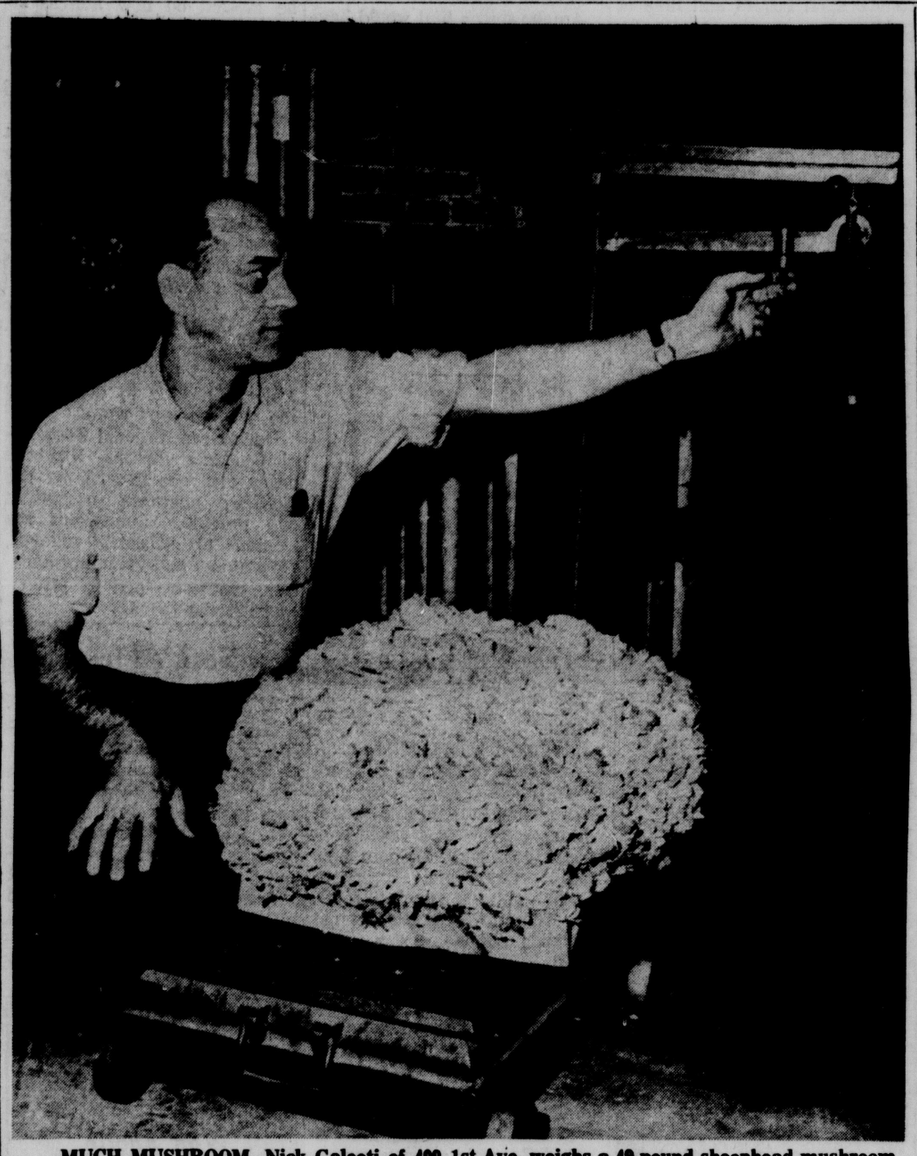

Nixon said, "He feels apparently that by having debates that maybe Wallace will win a perimeter of the South that I otherwise might win and I'm not going to play that game."

He said he wouldn't take part in any three-way debate that would build up a third-party candidate. Nixon appealed to Southerners not to waste their votes on Wallace who, he said, has no chance of winning the White House.

Humphrey was confronted by a prearranged walkout by about 400 antiwar demonstrators as he spoke in Portland, Ore. He vowed, "I shall not be intimidated."

Humphrey's new campaign aide, veteran diplomat George W. Ball, touched off a sharp war of words as he labeled Nixon

Greeks Vote Sunday On Constitution

Security Tightened To Avert Campaign Against Regime

ATHENS (AP) — Greek police tightened security today to prevent any campaign against the regime-sponsored new constitution before Sunday's referendum. Transportation facilities were jammed as Greeks, required by law to vote, returned to their home voting districts.

The increased vigilance came after opposition groups scattered pamphlets calling for a "no" vote in the streets of Athens and its suburbs. It was the first such resistance to the vote on the constitution.

It seemed many Greeks would not get home in time to cast their ballot because of the transportation crush. Punishment for not voting ranges from a month to a year in jail or a stiff fine. But the regime has announced persons unable to vote for valid reasons will not be prosecuted.

To insure a record turnout, an emergency law was passed requiring registered voters living as far as 300 miles from their home districts to return to vote. The previous requirement was 30 miles.

Despite the "no" pamphlets and the transportation problem, qualified observers considered overwhelming acceptance of the draft constitution a foregone conclusion.

The vote on the document, which strips the monarchy of any real power and increases military authority, is billed as a test of confidence for the military men who seized power 17 months ago.

One source said the regime was concerned over the possibility of receiving too many "yes" voters from the 5,676,950 registered voters.

Lisbon Hearing Held

Decision Nears In Water Dispute

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court decision on a petition to kill the proposed $620,000 St. Clair Water System can be expected next week.

Alexander & Savinell of Steubenville, counsel for opponents of the project, has until Wednesday to file a detailed reply to the county commissioners' motion for dismissal of an injunction action filed last April.

More than 50 were in the courtroom Friday afternoon when Judge Raymond S. Buzzard presided for a hearing on the motion.

Allen Buchmann of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Cleveland legal firm, spoke for the commissioners, who have been tied up in litigation since July 1967 when they voted to proceed with the improvement.

"WE ARE in a situation where a substantial public improvement is being held up or stopped by the pendency of this action," Buchmann said. He called the action a "generalized assault on the public improvement," and said it was "perpetrated in a large part by parties who are not affected by it." He explained that some of the 50 plaintiffs do not own land in the proposed service area.

Buchmann said the opponents' counsel had not filed a reply although the rule date (legal filing time) is long past. The case is "ripe for a decision," he added. With Buchmann were Dave Rowlinson, his associate in the Cleveland firm, and Richard Clark of East Liverpool, assistant prosecuting attorney.

A. J. Savinell replied he had filed a reply in the form of a general denial. He said he mailed it Sept. 25 and read his copy to the court since it had not been received here.

"I will permit you to file a reply," Judge Buzzard told Savinell, "but it will have to be a factual rather than a general denial. I would expect you to admit those things you know are true and deny those things you don't think are true."

Judge Buzzard said he will make a decision as soon as he receives the reply.

LITIGATION began in the summer of 1967 when opponents appealed to Probate Court from the commissioners' decision to proceed with construction.

They lost the appeal because they failed to file within the statutory period. They appealed the Probate Court decision to Common Pleas Court. However, on the hearing date last April they withdrew the appeal and subsequently filed the injunction action.

They asked the court to enjoin the comissioners from going any farther with the project and from assessing the property owners. They said they have water wells of their own and that the $3-per-front-foot assessment is out of proportion to any benefits they might receive.

Biafra Troops Take Town In Counterattack

Rebels' Firepower Heavier, Nigerian Officers Disclose

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — With Nigerian forces pressing their month-old "final assault" in the country's 15-month-old civil war, Biafran rebels have counterattacked strongly on at least three fronts and captured one town, reliable sources report.

Nigerian officers said Biafran firepower has become heavier and federal forces had responded by rushing men and ammunition into the hard-to-supply southeastern Nigerian area.

The strongest Biafran thrust appeared to be the taking of the former Biafran town of Ikot Ekpene—between Uyo, a major Nigerian refugee center, and Umuahia, headquarters of Biafran leader Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu.

The Biafrans were reported only four miles from Uyo, where the Red Cross and other groups have been helping at least 250,000 refugees.

Sources said Russian-made Ilyushin 28 medium jet bombers of the Nigerian air force, flown by Egyptians, made continuous raids around Ikot Ekpene, 11 miles north of Uyo.

Another phase of the counterattack was smashed Friday when federal troops threw back a Biafran assault at Obilagu, 25 miles north of Umuahia, sources said. Ten Nigerians were reported killed and 90 wounded. Biafran casualties were not determined.

Ray's Lawyer Says He May Leave Case

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Arthur Hanes Sr. said in court Friday that he may have to withdraw as James Earl Ray's lawyer.

"Serious difficulties have arisen between me and my client on the best way to handle this defense," Ray's chief counsel said without elaboration.

Hanes, former Birmingham, Ala., mayor, was retained by Ray before Ray was extradited from England and held in Memphis in the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Hanes was in court Friday for a hearing in which a committee of lawyers recommended that he and two newsmen and a private detective be held in contempt of court on grounds they violated an order prohibiting prejudicial news statements in connection with the Ray case.

After the recommendation, Hanes charged that "prejudice is showing like a grandmother's petticoat under a miniskirt."

"I'm going to do everything I can to defend my client against whatever arises, including committees of lawyers. I do not know what their motives are, although I have my ideas," he said.

The hearing was continued until Monday.

Ray, charged with the assassination of King in Memphis on April 4, is scheduled to go on trial Nov. 12. He was captured in England.

Chances For Confirmation Suffer

Showdown Vote On Fortas Slated Tuesday In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Abe Fortas' chances for confirmation as chief justice suffered setbacks within Congress and without as President Johnson's nomination moved today toward a Tuesday showdown on the Senate floor.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirkson, once an outspoken supporter of confirmation, said Friday he would not vote to shut off a filbuster against the nomination and said he was now undecided on whether to back Fortas.

Dirksen said he was taking this position because of developments that occurred since his earlier endorsement, but he declined to elaborate.

At the same time, the president of the American Bar Association, which endorsed Fortas, said the ABA's committee on federal judgeships did not have all the facts when it backed the nomination.

"I do recognize that all of the facts were not before the committee," said William Gossett. "Some of the facts brought about by the Senate committee were not present before it voted."

Gossett, however, said any move to take a new look at endorsing Fortas would have to be made by the chairman of the ABA committee, Albert Jenner of Chicago.

Jenner could not be reached imediately.

Dirksen's reversal was hailed by the leader of Senate opposition to Fortas as "very significant."

Michigan Republican Robert P. Griffin also said he expects the switch to prompt other defections.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Dirksen's switch "sure as hell will" make a difference in the fight to break a filibuster on a motion to call up Fortas' nomination for consideration.

Mansfield filed a petition Friday, on the third day of the filibuster, to invoke the Senate's debate-limiting cloturerule.

He received his military training at Ft. Benning, Ga., and was then assigned to Munich, Germany, until March of last year. He returned home on leave and was sent to Vietnam.

Germany Unable To Budge France

Bonn Summit Talks End

BULLETIN

BONN, Germany (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle warned today that the European Common Market would disintegrate if some of its members attempted to gain British admittance without French backing.

BONN, Germany (AP) — French-German sumit talks, strained by another French blackball of British membership in the European Common Market, ended today with no sign that Germany had been able to budge France.

The final round of talks by President Charles de Gaulle, Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger and members of their governments ran 25 minutes beyond the time scheduled and Kiesinger looked grim as he emerged with De Gaulle.

The Common Market issue was at the top of the agenda at the talks. Both sides skirted the issue Friday.

Neither was there any indication that the French president had given the Germans much comfort in their concern about Western defenses.

The two leaders concentrated Fridaf on the new situation created in Europe by the Soviet-led occupation of Czechoslovakia.

Although they reportedly expressed solidarity in their grave view of the Czechoslovak crisis, no agreement emerged on how to confront the situation.

In a speech Friday night at the Bonn federal chancellery, De Gaulle expressed a two-edged approach to dealing with the crisis.

He appeared to counsel the West Germans to exercise restraint rather than to continue to press for a new look at the Western military alliance. "No

The two leaders concentrated Fridaf on the new situation created in Europe by the Soviet-led occupation of Czechoslovakia.

Although they reportedly expressed solidarity in their grave view of the Czechoslovak crisis, no agreement emerged on how to confront the situation.

In a speech Friday night at the Bonn federal chancellery, De Gaulle expressed a two-edged approach to dealing with the crisis.

He appeared to counsel the West Germans to exercise restraint rather than to continue to press for a new look at the Western military alliance. "No vote for 1 p.m. Tuesday, one hour after the Senate is to meet.

A two-thirds majority of senators voting will be required to put cloture into effect.

An Associated Press poll earlier this week showed opponents had 35 votes-one more than enough-to keep the filibuster going. Dirksen's switch would raise that to 36.

Withdrawal of the nomination was urged in Friday speeches by Sens. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., John L. McClellan, D-Ark,. and Clifford P Hansen, R-Wyo.

Thurmond said he had thought that when Dirksen "learned all of the facts about the Fortas matter he would join with the majority of Republicans in the Senate who are opposing this nomination."

He expressed hope that Johnson would now "see that he has made a mistake" and withdraw the nomination.

McClellan told the Senate that "the sooner the nomination is withdrawn, the better it will be for everybody concerned."

If the nomination is not withdrawn and the Senate is forced into a long debate, he said, things will be said that will result in "a further diminution in the personal and official popularity of the President," and in "serious injury to the Democratic party and its candidates for president and vice president."

"Worst of all," he added, "There will be further impairment of public confidence in the Supreme Court."

Among things that would have to be gone into, McClellan said, are films, pictures, magazines and books "so indecent and so degrading" that the Senate would have to go into secret session to consider them.

He said these materials have in effect been legalized by Supreme Court decisons in which Fortas joined and which McClellan blamed for "opening the floodgates to pornography."

"Be ready for tomorrow, get guidance today" is the theme of the third National Guidance Week to be observed throughout Beaver County Oct. 20-26. Guidance will make people who seek employment aware of job and career possibilities and help them get the training needed to qualify for the position they want.

During the National Vocational Guidance Week, Hineman urges everyone to find out the services guidance counselors can provide. "Counselors are located in schools, colleges, government and voluntary agencies, industries and in private counseloring firms.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) Republican gubernatorial candidate Arch A. Moore Jr. proposed Friday several changes in West Virginia's educational system, including a $1,000 a year raise for teachers the first of next year.

Issuing the first of a series of position papers. Moore promised if elected, to ask the next session of the legislature in January to give teachers a $1,000 a year raise the first year and a $1,500 hike within two years.

He said the salary increases could be managed without additional taxes.

The First District congressman also supported:

Providing separate boards for elementary and secondary schools.

Complete review of current state programs to determine if the State Department of Education "can be made more efficiently responsive to the requirements of modern education and science."

The use of television as a means of providing preschool training for four and five year olds, a proposal he said he made "months ago" before the West Virginia Boards of Educators at Weston.

Elaborating in the 18-page paper on teachers' salaries, Moore said they "must be raised in keeping with the dignite and responsibilities of their profession.

"I will encourage teachers to pursue appropriate graduate studies by instituting free summer school tuition at state accredited institutions."

Frances Mercina Crowned Queen At Lisbon Game

LISBON — Miss Frances Mercina reigned as homecoming queen during the Lisbon-Poland football game Friday night.

Keeping the honors in the family, Frances succeeds her sister Karen, last year's queen.

They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mercina of 601 E. Chestnut St.

Elected by members of the varsity football squad, Frances received her crown prior to last night's game.

Miss Mercina is head cheerleader, treasurer of the French Club, a member of the yearbook staff and the chorus.

Her attendants were Betsy Davner, Holly Richardson, Bonnie Lowry and Paula Richards.

Mrs. Sophia Zagula of 3rd St., Chester, W. Va., is Miss Mercinia's grandmother.

Man Identifies Self As Hit-Skip Motorist

Kenneth E. Gordon, 26, of Smiths Ferry identified himself to police Friday afternoon as the driver of an auto that sheared a utility pole at St. Clair Ave. and Walnut St. Wednesday night and then was abandoned seven miles away.

The auto already had been traced tentatively to Gordon through a check on the license plate number made after the car was found in a ditch along Berkshire Rd. The registration check showed his address as East Liverpool RD 3.

Police said Gordon appeared at headquarters voluntarily, was advised of his Constitutional rights against self-incrimination and made a statement about the crash in which he said he fled because he "was scared."

Patrolman Charles Coen trailed the car after the accident by following heavy black marks left on the pavement by a flattened tire.

Satellite Unit Dedicated In West Virginia

ETAM, W. Va. (AP) — The newest earth station in an intercontinental communications system "will produce service to the multitudes" and make West Virginians "neighbors to all the earth," Rep. Harley O. Staggers D-W. Va., said at dedication ceremonies Friday.

The Communications Satellite Corp. COMSAT dedicated the $6.5 million facility in this Preston County hamlet. It is the fourth United States earth station and the 16th in operation around the world.

Staggers, chairman of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, also predicted use of satellites for U.S. domestic communications.

"I can foresee that day when another antennae right here on this site could make this station an east coast center for domestic satellite communications," Staggers said, "making this area of West Virginia a crossroads for both national and international exchange of information that means economic and political and social progress."

The COMSAT system spans oceans by relays from ground to space satellites to ground.

The Etam station will be used commercially for the first time Tuesday to relay, via a satellite in orbit 22,000 miles above the Atlantic, a special program to Puerto Rico. It also will be used Wednesday for telecast of a World Series game to Puerto Rico.

COMSAT is the U.S. participant in the International Telecommunications Satellite Consortium (INTELSAT), a 63-nation partnership of governments and private interests.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio AFL-CIO Committee on Poltical Education (COPE) Friday endorsed Democrat John J. Gilligan for the Ohio U.S. Senate seat.

The endorsement will mean an addition of thousands of dollars from labor to Gilligan's depleted campaign coffers.

COPE also endorsed 106 other candidates in state and district races. The list included six Republican and 100 Democrats. In one race both candidates were endorsed.

Gilligan expressed gratification to the committee for the endorsement. He said he was "pleased once again to jobs with Ohio's working men and women in the struggle for a better America."

COPE, in an unprecedented move, had endorsed Gilligan in his successful May primary campaign against two-term U.S. Senator Frank J. Lausche.

Gilligan's Republican opponent, William B. Saxbe, said he had expected COPE's action.

Both candidates had appeared before a COPE operating committee Thursday night.

Saxbe said he went to the meeting in good faith, but was well aware that he was walking into a "loaded, prejudiced session."

COPE's Republican endorsements included one for Congress, one for the Ohio Senate and four for the Ohio House. Democrats received three statewide, 19 for Congress, 13 for the Ohio Senate and 65 for the Ohio House.

For the 89th House district COPE endorsed both Republican Ross G. Heintzelman and his Democratic opponent Charles L. Babcock.

The labor group also endorsed John C. Duffy and Merrill D. Brthers for the Ohio Supreme Court race. Both had ran in the May primary as Democrats.

Ten-year-old Mark Kispal, the son of Alex Kispal, 43, of Cleveland, who was driving the other car, was dead on arrival at St. Alexis Hospital, Cleveland.

Four boy scouts in the Kispal car were hurt. All were from Cleveland. They were Michael Rosko, 13, his brother Leslie, 11, Thomas Balga, 12, and Tibor Nagy, 13.

Moore Would Hike Teacher Salary $1,000 First Of Year

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) Republican gubernatorial candidate Arch A. Moore Jr. proposed Friday several changes in West Virginia's educational system, including a $1,000 a year raise for teachers the first of next year.

Issuing the first of a series of position papers. Moore promised if elected, to ask the next session of the legislature in January to give teachers a $1,000 a year raise the first year and a $1,500 hike within two years.

He said the salary increases could be managed without additional taxes.

The First District congressman also supported:

Establishment of community colleges and technical - vocational schools to provide training for high school graduates who do not go to college and for adults who wish to either improve present skills or develop new ones.

Providing separate boards for elementary and secondary schools.

Complete review of current state programs to determine if the State Department of Education "can be made more efficiently responsive to the requirements of modern education and science."

The use of television as a means of providing preschool training for four and five year olds, a proposal he said he made "months ago" before the West Virginia Boards of Educators at Weston.

Elaborating in the 18-page paper on teachers' salaries, Moore said they "must be raised in keeping with the dignite and responsibilities of their profession.

"I will encourage teachers to pursue appropriate graduate studies by instituting free summer school tuition at state accredited institutions."

CHARACTER ROLE has actor Christopher Plummer in a curled wig and organdy-bowed shirt. Plummer portrays a fop in an upcoming motion picture.

Frances Mercina Crowned Queen At Lisbon Game

LISBON — Miss Frances Mercina reigned as homecoming queen during the Lisbon-Poland football game Friday night.

Keeping the honors in the family, Frances succeeds her sister Karen, last year's queen.

They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mercina of 601 E. Chestnut St.

Elected by members of the varsity football squad, Frances received her crown prior to last night's game.

Miss Mercina is head cheerleader, treasurer of the French Club, a member of the yearbook staff and the chorus.

Her attendants were Betsy Davner, Holly Richardson, Bonnie Lowry and Paula Richards.

Mrs. Sophia Zagula of 3rd St., Chester, W. Va., is Miss Mercinia's grandmother.

Man Identifies Self As Hit-Skip Motorist

Kenneth E. Gordon, 26, of Smiths Ferry identified himself to police Friday afternoon as the driver of an auto that sheared a utility pole at St. Clair Ave. and Walnut St. Wednesday night and then was abandoned seven miles away.

The auto already had been traced tentatively to Gordon through a check on the license plate number made after the car was found in a ditch along Berkshire Rd. The registration check showed his address as East Liverpool RD 3.

Police said Gordon appeared at headquarters voluntarily, was advised of his Constitutional rights against self-incrimination and made a statement about the crash in which he said he fled because he "was scared."

Patrolman Charles Coen trailed the car after the accident by following heavy black marks left on the pavement by a flattened tire.

Satellite Unit Dedicated In West Virginia

ETAM, W. Va. (AP) — The newest earth station in an intercontinental communications system "will produce service to the multitudes" and make West Virginians "neighbors to all the earth," Rep. Harley O. Staggers D-W. Va., said at dedication ceremonies Friday.

The Communications Satellite Corp. COMSAT dedicated the $6.5 million facility in this Preston County hamlet. It is the fourth United States earth station and the 16th in operation around the world.

Staggers, chairman of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, also predicted use of satellites for U.S. domestic communications.

"I can foresee that day when another antennae right here on this site could make this station an east coast center for domestic satellite communications," Staggers said, "making this area of West Virginia a crossroads for both national and international exchange of information that means economic and political and social progress."

The COMSAT system spans oceans by relays from ground to space satellites to ground.

The Etam station will be used commercially for the first time Tuesday to relay, via a satellite in orbit 22,000 miles above the Atlantic, a special program to Puerto Rico. It also will be used Wednesday for telecast of a World Series game to Puerto Rico.

COMSAT is the U.S. participant in the International Telecommunications Satellite Consortium (INTELSAT), a 63-nation partnership of governments and private interests.

Handwriting Is On The Wall

More and more Americans are becoming disenchanted with the Electoral College System as a method for choosing the U.S. president. A look at the way it operates tells why they are dissatisfied.

Voters placing their "X" after the name of the presidential candidate of their choice Nov. 5 will not necessarily be casting their vote for that man. They will be casting a vote for a slate of electors (equal to each state's total of senators and representatives in Congress) of a political party.

Members of the slate that wins the most votes meet on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December and are entitled to cast their vote for one of the presidential candidates.

TRADITIONALLY — although there have been some exceptions — they vote for their party's nominee. But they are bound only by custom because there is no legal requirement that they support their party's choice.

With a total of 538 members of the Electoral College (535 reflecting congressional representation and 3 from the District of Columbia) a majority of 270 electoral votes are necessary to elect the president and vice president.

If no candidate gains majority, the selection of a president is up to the House of Representatives under a balloting system that gives each state one vote.

The system is nearly two centuries old and its unpopularity is distributed across the country. Animosity is mounting in this crucial presidential year that has seen much disillusionment with the convention system and the possibility that the third-party candidacy of George Wallace may throw the selection of the president into the House of Representatives.

The most repeated objection to the archaic Electoral College system is that it does not fit into the American ideal of full participatory democracy.

Three times in the history of the United States the presidential candidate receiving the largest popular vote did not win a majority of electoral votes, 1824, 1876 and 1888.

Theoretically, if the presidential decision goes to the House, it could be decided by a group of states with less than 20 per cent of the U. S. population.

Hundreds of attempts have been made to revise or abolish the Electoral College system and more than three dozen reform measures presently are bottled up in the House Judiciary Committee.

WITH THE REFORM CRY louder than ever before, the question is not so much whether reform is needed, but how to get it accomplished.

The suggested replacement for the Electoral College that is gaining momentum is a direct popular vote with a provision for a run-off election if a large number of candidates divides the vote to the extent that no one gets above 40 per cent.

The wild and wooly 1968 election year could easily spur congressional action on the issue but even if the decision is postponed, the handwriting is on the wall for the Electoral College — reform is coming sooner or later.

It is inconsistent with the goal of democracy to have the two highest offices in the land fall in the category of being the only elective federal offices not decided by a direct vote of the people.

Keeping 'Em In Shape

A contractor is in the final stages of applying $73,000 worth of blacktop to sections of four East Liverpool streets.

St. Clair Ave. has been resurfaced between Princeton Ave. and 6th St., as has Washington St. between E. 3rd St. and E. 4th St. Work is almost complete on the River Rd. and Broadway between the Penn - Central tracks and E. 3rd St.

The stretches of the River Rd. and Washington St., particularly, were so rough as to test the shock absorbers of anyone's car. The long segment of St. Clair was not much better. But none of them can match Avondale St., a veritable washboard of heaved and sunken bricks that has been the despair of motorists for generations.

Now that the four stretches have smooth new surfaces, let's hope that somebody at City Hall makes a note on his calendar that they'll need sealcoating at regular intervals—every two or three years — to keep the blacktop in good condition. Blacktop is like many other surfaces, it needs regular preventive maintenance to guard it from the inroads of weather. Sealcoating performs the same function as wax on an auto finish or furniture.

And while that fellow at City Hall is making notes, let's hope he scribbles himself a reminder to put Avondale St. on the list for resurfacing one of these days.

More Than Self

This week's visit to the Columbiana County Home by the Beaver Local Key Club and plans for each member to be a "buddy" for an underpriviliged child are proof of efforts to close the "generation gap."

These boys - - along with many young men and women in the tri-state area - - do not fit the popular image of "today's ego-centered, undisciplined youth," and serve as a reminder to the hippies - - and the aging squares in business suits and work clothes - - that the future of mankind has and always will rest on the principle of helping others, not just one's self.

RAYMOND MOLEY

Men Behind The Speeches

The mad, mad rush in pursuit of votes, now accelerated by jet propulsion, imposes upon presidential candidates the need for an incredible quantity of things to say.

In a Senate committee report published in 1961 there is recorded the speeches, press conferences and statements of John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon in the 1960 campaign. The Kennedy volume has 975 pages of small, compact typography. Nixon's output fills 1,119 pages. The joint debates fill another volume of 615 pages.

For a comparison I turned to an old copy of "The First Battle" by William Jennings Bryan published after his campaign for president in 1896. In larger print and with considerable space for post-campaign comment, that volume has only 629 pages. And Bryan was a considerable wordsmith in his own right.

AS FAR AS WE KNOW, Bryan had no help in composing his speeches, excepting many quotes on the money question from contemporary "literature."

But under modern conditions there are more issues, more speeches and more statements and press conferences. And so, from sheer necessity, candidates for the presidency now assemble a group of qualified people who gather facts and ideas suitable for the candidate's utterances on the issues.

These people are a quite different species from the political professionals who are also in the campaign. Since the early 1930s the proportion of professors and professional economists in these groups has been rather heavy. There are also some professional writers aming them.

The common expressions "ghosts" or speech writers are hardly appropriate to describe them. Their function should be to give information and ideas which the candidate may need. Often they supply him with some language which he can fit into what he says. Their function certainly should not be to write the speeches which the candidate delivers.

Ideally such a group should consist of not more than four or five members. Too many cooks tend to confuse the candidate and because of compromises among them there is a tendency to water down and neutralize what the candidate says. The old saying that "a camel is a horse made by a committee" applies here.

Also, in the operations of such a group not all the members should have access to the candidate. They would hopelessly confuse him. Moreover, these people should "have a passion for anonymity." They should not make public statements or talk to the press.

There should be a chief of staff who is close to the candidate at all times. The contributions of the staff members should go directly to him. He will select what he needs and discuss speech content with the candidate. Then he and the candidate should collaborate in composing the speech. This chief should, above all, have political sense and a talent for writing speech prose. Essays and articles written for publication do not sound well in a speech.

The chief of staff should have good relations with the political managers but not be subject to them in any way. There should be a sharp division of responsibilities between the facts and idea men, and the pros, but they should not be completely isolated from each other. In the Goldwater case they were and there were mutual recriminations after the election.

As I have indicated, this should be the ideal in organizing a campaign but since the concept of a so-called "brains trust" prevails in politics, it has seldom operated as it should in a campaign. It did prove out in the JFK pursuit of the presidency in 1960 and the years before. Theodore Sorensen was chief of staff and he worked in complete harmony with his boss. But in other instances it has not worked well.

IN 1960, Nixon's policy group and managers were mingled with unfortunate results, and Nixon generally composed his own speeches. In the Dewey's campaign of 1948 there was too sharp a division between the policy group and the managers, and the speech writers provided Dewey with material which was not suited to his own aggressive personality.

In the Wilkie campaign of 1940, this operation was a mess. The chief of staff was a sort of post with no political savvy at all. And Willkie seldom looked at a prepared speech before it was delivered.

It is too early yet to appraise Nixon and Humphrey's idea men. From what I have learned there seem to be too many of them. And they are not yet well organized.

Nixon wrote his acceptance speech entirely alone and unaided. No one else saw the speech before it was delivered except his remarkable secretary over the years, Rose Mary Woods, a native of Sebring, Ohio.

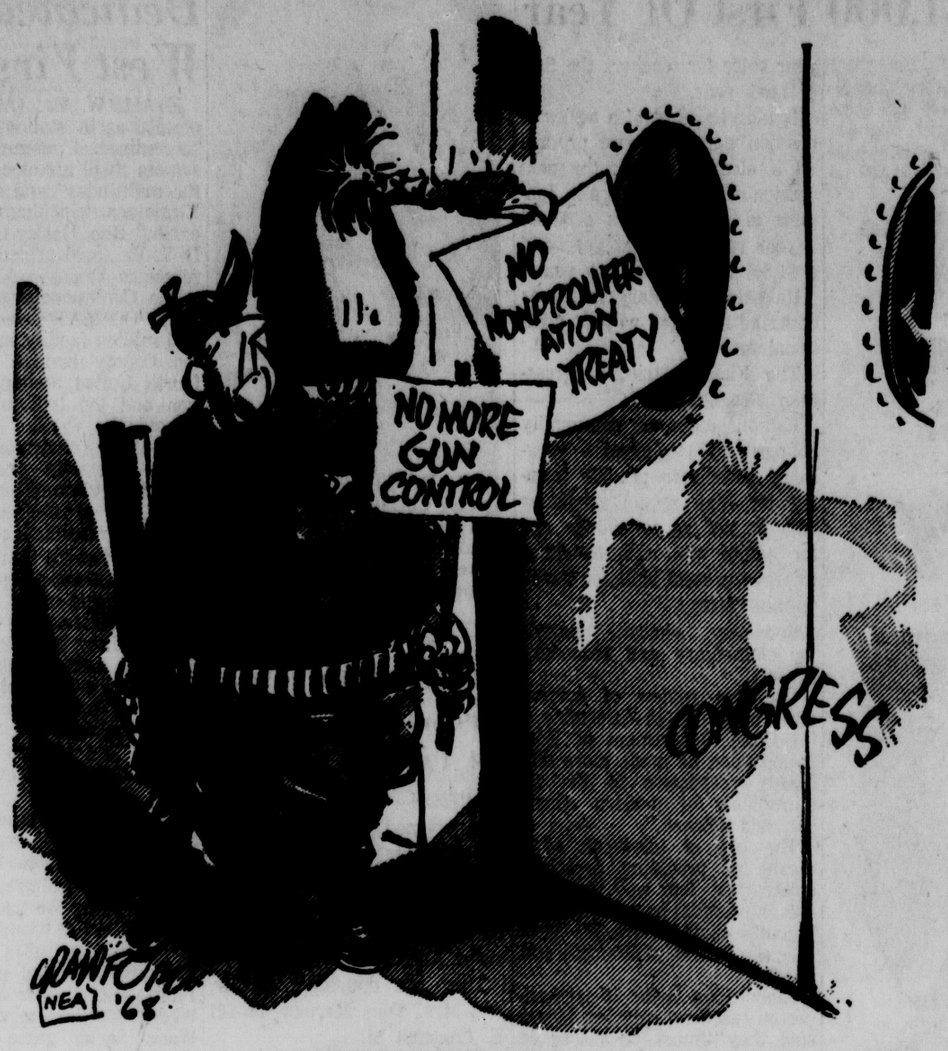

Perhaps that is why it was so effective.

Odd Facts

The original U.S. "Pledge of Allegiance" to the flag was written by Francis Bellamy and was introduced at the dedication of the Chicago World's Fair Grounds on Oct. 12, 1892. The pledge, however, wasn't officially approved by Congress until Dec. 28, 1945.

The average annual mileage covered by American motorists today is still about 10,000—which it has been for the last 20 years or so—and the average citizen who buys a new car drives it for only two or three years before turning it in for another new model.

Worked Over At Work-Ins

WASHINGTON — Careening in from the left, the self-appointed revolutionaries of the hyperactivist Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) have begun to rough up the labor front as though it were an Ivy League campus.

Undoubtedly, union presidents are about to get a dose of what has made aspirin a major sales item among university presidents.

It all springs from something known charismatically to the young militants as NO-NWC. If you're in, you know that this means National Office-New Working Class. In theory and practice, as the amateurishly bearded Lenin would have said, the tactics are the same regardless of the site of battle.

Stir the action. Bring out the cops. Fight the cops. Denounce them as storm troopers and agents of bosses, imperialists, capitalist unions and monopoly coleges.

These students are bloody serious. They've developed a network of SDS "Work-Ins."

Its activists are ready for action, according to their own documents, all the way from Philadelphia and New York to Los Angeles and the San Francisco Bay area — with interim "picketing and pamphleting" in such midwest cities as Chicago, Detroit and Pittsburgh.

THEY THEORIZE that they're truly not splitting their energies, dividing their forces or delaying the revolution, or postponing the "radicalizing" of the middle class.

Their tactic is aimed at the university system by way of attack on American industry and commerce. These establishments, say the SDS strategists, contribute most of the trustees to the boards of what is commonly known as the land's "higher educational system."

This new left has a major dialectical problem. It has already engendered a newer left which sneers at the SDS labor programs as "nonrevolutionary and reformist."

However, there did not seem to be anything reformist about the SDS invasion of a brassiere factory on New York's Lower West Side. There a militant direct-actionist of the Puerto Rican "Independence" faction whipped up a wildcat strike among some 500 employes. Most of the strikers were women of Puerto Rican origin. They had their grievances. Before the ladies' garment workers union could move under its no-strike contract, the women were pushed into the wildcat.

Soon the SDS "Work-In" squad arrived. Then came campus-type action. And of course the police. There were battles, pamphleting and picketing. The "Work-In" students put out leaflets. A late starter was the SDS Labor Committee, a splinter, which publishes something called "Solidarity." The official "Work-In" group set up an office, published a phone number and told employes of the plant, alluringly called Figure Flattery, to call "Fernando", if they wanted to talk unionism or politics.

THIS FOLLOWED QUIETER labor action this summer in Mayor Daley's town. There the SDS set up the "Chicago Area Work-In program." Some 40 students took factory jobs to learn about the bosses and capitalism.

Some of the students insinuated themselves into the wildcat Railway Express Agency strike. There were meetings, dialogue sessions and the showing of "Salt of the Earth," a tough, militant film sponsored by the left-wing Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, before it merged with the United Steelworkers.

"Work-Ins" are not confined to the East. There has been SDS action wherever its people could pick up a stray wildcat. There was one such in Alameda, Calif., in the San Francisco Bay area. Others are being sought in Los Angeles.

The practice springs from lawn discussions last June when the SDS ran its national convention at Michigan State University in East Lansing. There the labor invasion program was introduced to the 800 SDS representatives by the New York and Philadelphia delegations. It was not adopted officially because of intense discussion of wider revolutionary action.

BUT THE PROGRAM won the undergraduate hearts and there has been "Work-In' activity. There will be more — in transit, steel, auto, on the rails, waterfront and in city commerce. This is the beginning. It will catch fire like confrontations at Columbia or Berkeley.

The "Work-In" operation is new. Next summer it will pick up the slack between semesters. It is designed "to advance their understanding of the working class and capitalists. This should help them (SDSers) in waging local student struggles and developing a broad worker-student alliance against imperialism. The seed for such an alliance has become clearer with the escalation of the war in Vietnam and with the increased awareness of the anti-war movement that without the workers no significant changes can be won."

The objective is to catch the spirit of Paris in the spring. No one thought it could happen there either.

Troop Cutback Unlikely In Viet

Lots of hopes may be raised unduly that the United States will soon cut down substantially its military forces in Vietnam. But there is as yet not the slightest evidence of any change of policy.

Indeed, the secretary of defense, Clark Clifford, insists that the United States has not yet reached the authorized strength of 549,500 in South Vietnam and that it intends "to continue to build toward that level."

He adds: "We have no intention of lowering that level, either by next June or at any time in the foreseeable future."

An even more pointed warning came recently from Rep. George H. Mahon, Democrat of Texas, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, who told the House of Representatives that not only was there no reduction in U.S. troop strength being planned, but hat big defense outlays would be necessary indefinitely.

HE NOTED that the current appropriation bill — passed by the House Sept. 12, by a vote of 334 to 7, and sent to the Senate — calls for 72.2 billion dollars to finance the Defense Department, and that about 28.6 billion dollars of this will go to the cost of the Vietnam operation.

Coincident with the requirements of the Vietnam War, there is talk of plans to increase the military strength of the United States in Europe. Rep. Mahon, for instance, reminded the House of Representatives in unequivocal terms that the Soviet Union remains the real threat to the security of the United States.

Unquestionably the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia has compelled the western countries to study anew the deployment of their forces in Europe.

What Russia did emphasized almost overnight to the outside world that peace in Europe can never be obtained until Russia manifests a spirit of co-operation and begins to reduce its own military expenditures as well as the sums being spent to assist in the armament of nations in the Middle East and Southeast Asia.

There is also considerable apprehension here in military circles concerning the enlargement of the Soviet Navy stationed in the Mediterranean. It is being predicted that the United States will be sending more vessels into those waters as a defensive operation related to the security of the free countries in Europe.

While the military buildup by the United States and its NATO allies in the coming months may be expensive, it could be money well spent if it brought a change of policy by the Soviet Union.

Certainly the move made in Czechoslovakia has been a setback for the Moscow regime. The world has been reminded that the arbitrary act of an autocratic government can still be a threat to world peace.

It is doubtful whether the Soviet Union will wish to see the arms race intensified between the East and West inside Europe. It would be a healthy development if Moscow were persuaded to enter into negotiations with the western powers to secure a reduction in the size of the armies on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

When the American presidential election is over, the new president of the United States will be confronted with the question of whether or not to increase defense expenditures and rebuild NATO.

WHETHER THE DRIVE for peace is initiated through a "summit" meeting or by an international conference of representatives of all the countries of Europe and Asia, along with the United States, it would appear that such a movement will have a better chance of achieving success if direct negotiations are first started with the Soviet Union.

The United States would naturally strive to persuade Moscow there should be a settlement of the Vietnam War. For the peace parleys in Paris are undoubtedly being prevented by Moscow from reaching a constructive result.

Unrest inside the Communist-bloc countries would be less likely to grow if the Soviet government abandoned its policy of attempting to dominate Europe by threats of military force.

Handwriting Is On The Wall

More and more Americans are becoming disenchanted with the Electoral College System as a method for choosing the U.S. president. A look at the way it operates tells why they are dissatisfied.

Voters placing their "X" after the name of the presidential candidate of their choice Nov. 5 will not necessarily be casting their vote for that man. They will be casting a vote for a slate of electors (equal to each state's total of senators and representatives in Congress) of a political party.

Members of the slate that wins the most votes meet on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December and are entitled to cast their vote for one of the presidential candidates.

TRADITIONALLY — although there have been some exceptions — they vote for their party's nominee. But they are bound only by custom because there is no legal requirement that they support their party's choice.

With a total of 538 members of the Electoral College (535 reflecting congressional representation and 3 from the District of Columbia) a majority of 270 electoral votes are necessary to elect the president and vice president.

If no candidate gains majority, the selection of a president is up to the House of Representatives under a balloting system that gives each state one vote.

The system is nearly two centuries old and its unpopularity is distributed across the country. Animosity is mounting in this crucial presidential year that has seen much disillusionment with the convention system and the possibility that the third-party candidacy of George Wallace may throw the selection of the president into the House of Representatives.

The most repeated objection to the archaic Electoral College system is that it does not fit into the American ideal of full participatory democracy.

Three times in the history of the United States the presidential candidate receiving the largest popular vote did not win a majority of electoral votes, 1824, 1876 and 1888.

Theoretically, if the presidential decision goes to the House, it could be decided by a group of states with less than 20 per cent of the U. S. population.

Hundreds of attempts have been made to revise or abolish the Electoral College system and more than three dozen reform measures presently are bottled up in the House Judiciary Committee.

WITH THE REFORM CRY louder than ever before, the question is not so much whether reform is needed, but how to get it accomplished.

The suggested replacement for the Electoral College that is gaining momentum is a direct popular vote with a provision for a run-off election if a large number of candidates divides the vote to the extent that no one gets above 40 per cent.

The wild and wooly 1968 election year could easily spur congressional action on the issue but even if the decision is postponed, the handwriting is on the wall for the Electoral College — reform is coming sooner or later.

It is inconsistent with the goal of democracy to have the two highest offices in the land fall in the category of being the only elective federal offices not decided by a direct vote of the people.

Keeping 'Em In Shape

A contractor is in the final stages of applying $73,000 worth of blacktop to sections of four East Liverpool streets.

St. Clair Ave. has been resurfaced between Princeton Ave. and 6th St., as has Washington St. between E. 3rd St. and E. 4th St. Work is almost complete on the River Rd. and Broadway between the Penn-Central tracks and E. 3rd St.

The stretches of the River Rd. and Washington St., particularly, were so rough as to test the shock absorbers of anyone's car. The long segment of St. Clair was not much better. But none of them can match Avondale St., a veritable washboard of heaved and sunken bricks that has been the despair of motorists for generations.

Now that the four stretches have smooth new surfaces, let's hope that somebody at City Hall makes a note on his calendar that they'll need sealcoating at regular intervals—every two or three years — to keep the blacktop in good condition. Blacktop is like many other surfaces, it needs regular preventive maintenance to guard it from the inroads of weather. Sealcoating performs the same function as wax on an auto finish or furniture.

And while that fellow at City Hall is making notes, let's hope he scribbles himself a reminder to put Avondale St. on the list for resurfacing one of these days.

More Than Self

This week's visit to the Columbiana County Home by the Beaver Local Key Club and plans for each member to be a "buddy" for an underpriviliged child are proof of efforts to close the "generation gap."

These boys - - along with many young men and women in the tri-state area - - do not fit the popular image of "today's ego-centered, undisciplined youth," and serve as a reminder to the hippies - - and the aging squares in business suits and work clothes - - that the future of mankind has and always will rest on the principle of helping others, not just one's self.

Men Behind The Speeches

The mad, mad rush in pursuit of votes, now accelerated by jet propulsion, imposes upon presidential candidates the need for an incredible quantity of things to say.

In a Senate committee report published in 1961 there is recorded the speeches, press conferences and statements of John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon in the 1960 campaign. The Kennedy volume has 975 pages of small, compact typography. Nixon's output fills 1,119 pages. The joint debates fill another volume of 615 pages.

For a comparison I turned to an old copy of "The First Battle" by William Jennings Bryan published after his campaign for president in 1896. In larger print and with considerable space for post-campaign comment, that volume has only 629 pages. And Bryan was a considerable wordsmith in his own right.

AS FAR AS WE KNOW, Bryan had no help in composing his speeches, excepting many quotes on the money question from contemporary "literature."

But under modern conditions there are more issues, more speeches and more statements and press conferences. And so, from sheer necessity, candidates for the presidency now assemble a group of qualified people who gather facts and ideas suitable for the candidate's utterances on the issues.

These people are a quite different species from the political professionals who are also in the campaign. Since the early 1930s the proportion of professors and professional economists in these groups has been rather heavy. There are also some professional writers aming them.

The common expressions "ghosts" or speech writers are hardly appropriate to describe them. Their function should be to give information and ideas which the candidate may need. Often they supply him with some language which he can fit into what he says. Their function certainly should not be to write the speeches which the candidate delivers.

Ideally such a group should consist of not more than four or five members. Too many cooks tend to confuse the candidate and because of compromises among them there is a tendency to water down and neutralize what the candidate says. The old saying that "a camel is a horse made by a committee" applies here.

Also, in the operations of such a group not all the members should have access to the candidate. They would hopelessly confuse him. Moreover, these people should "have a passion for anonymity." They should not make public statements or talk to the press.

There should be a chief of staff who is close to the candidate at all times. The contributions of the staff members should go directly to him. He will select what he needs and discuss speech content with the candidate. Then he and the candidate should collaborate in composing the speech. This chief should, above all, have political sense and a talent for writing speech prose. Essays and articles written for publication do not sound well in a speech.

The chief of staff should have good relations with the political managers but not be subject to them in any way. There should be a sharp division of responsibilities between the facts and idea men, and the pros, but they should not be completely isolated from each other. In the Goldwater case they were and there were mutual recriminations after the election.

As I have indicated, this should be the ideal in organizing a campaign but since the concept of a so-called "brains trust" prevails in politics, it has seldom operated as it should in a campaign. It did prove out in the JFK pursuit of the presidency in 1960 and the years before. Theodore Sorensen was chief of staff and he worked in complete harmony with his boss. But in other instances it has not worked well.

IN 1960, Nixon's policy group and managers were mingled with unfortunate results, and Nixon generally composed his own speeches. In the Dewey's campaign of 1948 there was too sharp a division between the policy group and the managers, and the speech writers provided Dewey with material which was not suited to his own aggressive personality.

In the Wilkie campaign of 1940, this operation was a mess. The chief of staff was a sort of post with no political savvy at all. And Willkie seldom looked at a prepared speech before it was delivered.

It is too early yet to appraise Nixon and Humphrey's idea men. From what I have learned there seem to be too many of them. And they are not yet well organized.

Nixon wrote his acceptance speech entirely alone and unaided. No one else saw the speech before it was delivered except his remarkable secretary over the years, Rose Mary Woods, a native of Sebring, Ohio.

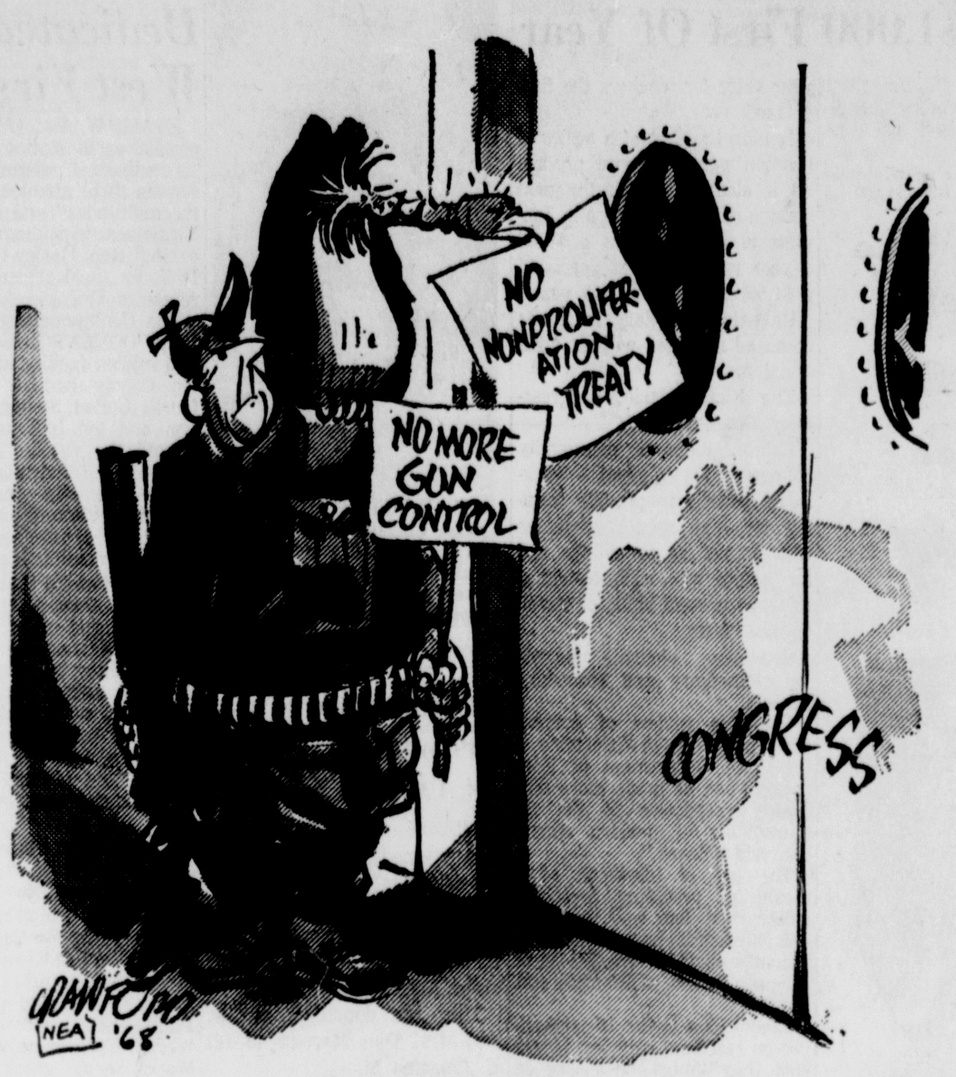

Perhaps that is why it was so effective.

Odd Facts

The original U.S. "Pledge of Allegiance" to the flag was written by Francis Bellamy and was introduced at the dedication of the Chicago World's Fair Grounds on Oct. 12, 1892. The pledge, however, wasn't officially approved by Congress until Dec. 28, 1945.

The average annual mileage covered by American motorists today is still about 10,000—which it has been for the last 20 years or so—and the average citizen who buys a new car drives it for only two or three years before turning it in for another new model.

Troop Cutback Unlikely In Viet

Lots of hopes may be raised unduly that the United States will soon cut down substantially its military forces in Vietnam. But there is as yet not the slightest evidence of any change of policy.

Indeed, the secretary of defense, Clark Clifford, insists that the United States has not yet reached the authorized strength of 549,500 in South Vietnam and that it intends "to continue to build toward that level."

He adds: "We have no intention of lowering that level, either by next June or at any time in the foreseeable future."

An even more pointed warning came recently from Rep. George H. Mahon, Democrat of Texas, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, who told the House of Representatives that not only was there no reduction in U.S. troop strength being planned, but hat big defense outlays would be necessary indefinitely.

HE NOTED that the current appropriation bill — passed by the House Sept. 12, by a vote of 334 to 7, and sent to the Senate — calls for 72.2 billion dollars to finance the Defense Department, and that about 28.6 billion dollars of this will go to the cost of the Vietnam operation.

Coincident with the requirements of the Vietnam War, there is talk of plans to increase the military strength of the United States in Europe. Rep. Mahon, for instance, reminded the House of Representatives in unequivocal terms that the Soviet Union remains the real threat to the security of the United States.

Unquestionably the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia has compelled the western countries to study anew the deployment of their forces in Europe.

What Russia did emphasized almost overnight to the outside world that peace in Europe can never be obtained until Russia manifests a spirit of co-operation and begins to reduce its own military expenditures as well as the sums being spent to assist in the armament of nations in the Middle East and Southeast Asia.

There is also considerable apprehension here in military circles concerning the enlargement of the Soviet Navy stationed in the Mediterranean. It is being predicted that the United States will be sending more vessels into those waters as a defensive operation related to the security of the free countries in Europe.

While the military buildup by the United States and its NATO allies in the coming months may be expensive, it could be money well spent if it brought a change of policy by the Soviet Union.

Certainly the move made in Czechoslovakia has been a setback for the Moscow regime. The world has been reminded that the arbitrary act of an autocratic government can still be a threat to world peace.

It is doubtful whether the Soviet Union will wish to see the arms race intensified between the East and West inside Europe. It would be a healthy development if Moscow were persuaded to enter into negotiations with the western powers to secure a reduction in the size of the armies on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

When the American presidential election is over, the new president of the United States will be confronted with the question of whether or not to increase defense expenditures and rebuild NATO.

WHETHER THE DRIVE for peace is initiated through a "summit" meeting or by an international conference of representatives of all the countries of Europe and Asia, along with the United States, it would appear that such a movement will have a better chance of achieving success if direct negotiations are first started with the Soviet Union.

The United States would naturally strive to persuade Moscow there should be a settlement of the Vietnam War. For the peace parleys in Paris are undoubtedly being prevented by Moscow from reaching a constructive result.

Unrest inside the Communist-bloc countries would be less likely to grow if the Soviet government abandoned its policy of attempting to dominate Europe by threats of military force.

sustained the commissioners' demurrer on grounds the plaintiffs had no right to bring the case to Common Pleas Court after having lost in Probate Court.

Counsel for the plaintiffs followed with an amended petition claiming the commissioners did not meet the statutory requirements for notifying all the property owners of the proposed improvement and tentative assessment, and that to assess them at $3 per front foot would amount to confiscation.

Buchmann yesterday said the commissioners complied with statutory regulations for notifying the property owners by mail. The individual property owners can have their day in court when the assessments are made if they feel the charge is too high, he added.

SAVINELL said "a substantial number" of property owners were not given notice. "Most of those cards that came back were never searched for the last known address," he added. "They (the commissioners) used an old tax list, but did not get the proper addresses. The people did not have an opportunity to go before the commissioners at their hearing and voice their objections. That was the main reason for this injunction action."

Counsel said judgment on the pleadings should not be granted to the defendants, "that all the parties should be brought forward to give their testimony, then the case should be decided on its merits. It should not be decided on technicalities like rule dates. I think the court should allow the plaintiffs to file their reply."

Bids for the water system were taken in April, with the Nardei Contracting Co. of Bridgeville submitting the low figure of $507,031.

Plans call for the laying of 50,000 feet of mains and construction of two standpipes to Calcutta and Gaston Pl. The water would be purchased from East Liverpool.

The U.S. Housing and Urban Development Department at Chicago last week gave the commissioners an extension until Nov. 15 on a federal grant of $240,000. HUD informed the commissioners months ago that the money, allocated in February 1967, would not be released until the litigation is settled to the government's satisfaction. HUD was on the point of canceling the grant last week.

one else in the world can better deal with this great cause of peace in Europe or work for it with more prospect of success than our two peoples," he said.

But at the same time, the French president seemed to offer support to West Germany's blocked drive to improve relations with Eastern Europe. "Detente is our policy and these events will not stop us from continuing it as long as we can," he declared.

The issue of British market membership, though circumvented, overshadowed the first day of talks.

Observers noted a coolness at separate discussions between West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt and his French counterpart Michel Debre.

The two ministers had been in Brussels earlier in the day at the Common Market Ministerial Council, when Debre rejected a carefully worked out German package to give France an alternative to full British membership of the community.

The plan called for a reduction of tariff barriers between Britain and the six-member market by 30 per cent after three years and a subsequent intensification of technological and scientific cooperation. This was to be linked to internal consolidation and fusion of the European communities under the Common Market umbrella.

France's position, as stated by Debre, is that the two processes should not be linked and internal consolation should precede any steps to get Britain into the market.

sustained the commissioners' demurrer on grounds the plaintiffs had no right to bring the case to Common Pleas Court after having lost in Probate Court.

Counsel for the plaintiffs followed with an amended petition claiming the commissioners did not meet the statutory requirements for notifying all the property owners of the proposed improvement and tentative assessment, and that to assess them at $3 per front foot would amount to confiscation.

Buchmann yesterday said the commissioners complied with statutory regulations for notifying the property owners by mail. The individual property owners can have their day in court when the assessments are made if they feel the charge is too high, he added.

SAVINELL said "a substantial number" of property owners were not given notice. "Most of those cards that came back were never searched for the last known address," he added. "They (the commissioners) used an old tax list, but did not get the proper addresses. The people did not have an opportunity to go before the commissioners at their hearing and voice their objections. That was the main reason for this injunction action."

Counsel said judgment on the pleadings should not be granted to the defendants, "that all the parties should be brought forward to give their testimony, then the case should be decided on its merits. It should not be decided on technicalities like rule dates. I think the court should allow the plaintiffs to file their reply."

Bids for the water system were taken in April, with the Nardei Contracting Co. of Bridgeville submitting the low figure of $507,031.

Plans call for the laying of 50,000 feet of mains and construction of two standpipes to Calcutta and Gaston Pl. The water would be purchased from East Liverpool.

The U.S. Housing and Urban Development Department at Chicago last week gave the commissioners an extension until Nov. 15 on a federal grant of $240,000. HUD informed the commissioners months ago that the money, allocated in February 1967, would not be released until the litigation is settled to the government's satisfaction. HUD was on the point of canceling the grant last week.

Talks

one else in the world can better deal with this great cause of peace in Europe or work for it with more prospect of success than our two peoples," he said.

But at the same time, the French president seemed to offer support to West Germany's blocked drive to improve relations with Eastern Europe. "Detente is our policy and these events will not stop us from continuing it as long as we can," he declared.

The issue of British market membership, though circumvented, overshadowed the first day of talks.

Observers noted a coolness at separate discussions between West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt and his French counterpart Michel Debre.

The two ministers had been in Brussels earlier in the day at the Common Market Ministerial Council, when Debre rejected a carefully worked out German package to give France an alternative to full British membership of the community.

The plan called for a reduction of tariff barriers between Britain and the six-member market by 30 per cent after three years and a subsequent intensification of technological and scientific cooperation. This was to be linked to internal consolidation and fusion of the European communities under the Common Market umbrella.

France's position, as stated by Debre, is that the two processes should not be linked and internal consolation should precede any steps to get Britain into the market.

In it, the Lambeth Conference, by unanimous vote, called for a summit conference of world religious leaders by inviting the Archbishop of Canterberry on its behalf to consult with the Pope, the Ecumenical Patriarch Athenagoras, and the six presidents of the World Council of Churches on the possibility of convening a world conclave which would bring Christians, Jews, Moslems, Hindus, Shintoists and others around one table.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION

Simplicity In Christ

There are many people who are confused in religious matters. Because of all of this confusion some have concluded that the gospel is just too hard to understand. This however, is not the case. Notice this statement of the Apostle Paul in 2 Cor. 11:3. "But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ." We should pay special attention to the word "simplicity". This word implies that the gospel is without complication, it can be understood. Of course there are some things about the gospel that are hard to undestand, but the things necessary for our salvation are easily understood. Paul was warning that we need to be careful lest someone take us into something complicated and away from the simplicity of the will of God.

God's will can be understood by all, not just the highly educated. If you want to know and understand God's will, you can.

We need to be careful when we claim that the gospel is to hard to understand, lest we be guilty of charging God foolishly. God wants all men to be saved. Notice 1 Tim. 2:4. "Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of truth." Does it makes sense to say that God wants all to be saved by knowing His will but that he revealed His will in such complicated terms that all cannot understand it? No, this would be placing a serious charge against God. God does want all to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth. Thus he revealed the truth in such simplicity that all can understand.

Then this question comes to mind. If the gospel is not complicated and hard to be understood, then why is there so much confusion among religious people? The answer to this question can be seen by observing the large number of doctrines and commandments that are being taught in the religious world, that are totally without Bible backing. They are doctrines that God did not reveal. They do not have the sanction of God. They do not trace their origin to the word of God. These human doctrines have caused people to become confused. if every preacher and teacher would lay these human tenets aside and just begin teaching the things that he can find authorized in the Bible, this confusion could be quickly disolved. All would be speaking the same thing. 1 Cor. 1:10. All would be speaking as the oracles of God. 1 Pet. 4:11. The simplicity which is in Christ could be seen by all. Yes, many are confused but that confusion does not come from God's Word. Study God's book.

The 10-day annual visitation to regional vestry meetings has been set Sept. 30-Oct. 11 by the Rt. Rev. John H. Burt, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Ohio, and members of his staff.

The 47 counties of Ohio which comprise the Episcopal Diocese will be toured.

The Anglican Bishop of Delhi, India, the Rt. Rev. Philip B. Parmar, will accompany the group and address the more than 2,000 vestry and clergy assembling in 10 different geographical areas of Ohio.

IN THE Youngstown-Ohio Valley Region, the meeting will be held at St. Andrew's in Youngstown on Oct. 7 for clergy and vestry of St. Stephen's, East Liverpool; St. Paul's and St. Stephen's, Steubenville; Ascension, Wellsville; St. James', Boardman; Trinity, Lisbon; St. Luke's, Niles; Our Saviour, Salem; Christ, Warren; St. Andrew's, St. Augustine's, St. John's, St. Rocco's, all of Youngstown.

Bishops Burt and Parmar have just returned from the 10th Lambeth Conference in London, where 467 Anglican bishops from more than 30 nations were in consultative session for four weeks. The archbishop, the Most Rev. Michael Ramsey, was the host.

One of the most significant actions taken by the conference on the struggle for world peace was a resolution composed and introduced oy Bishop Burt.

In it, the Lambeth Conference, by unanimous vote, called for a summit conference of world religious leaders by inviting the Archbishop of Canterberry on its behalf to consult with the Pope, the Ecumenical Patriarch Athenagoras, and the six presidents of the World Council of Churches on the possibility of convening a world conclave which would bring Christians, Jews, Moslems, Hindus, Shintoists and others around one table.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION
Simplicity In Christ

There are many people who are confused in religious matters. Because of all of this confusion some have concluded that the gospel is just too hard to understand. This however, is not the case. Notice this statement of the Apostle Paul in 2 Cor. 11:3. "But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ." We should pay special attention to the word "simplicity". This word implies that the gospel is without complication, it can be understood. Of course there are some things about the gospel that are hard to undestand, but the things necessary for our salvation are easily understood. Paul was warning that we need to be careful lest someone take us into something complicated and away from the simplicity of the will of God.

God's will can be understood by all, not just the highly educated. If you want to know and understand God's will, you can.

We need to be careful when we claim that the gospel is to hard to understand, lest we be guilty of charging God foolishly. God wants all men to be saved. Notice 1 Tim. 2:4. "Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of truth." Does it makes sense to say that God wants all to be saved by knowing His will but that he revealed His will in such complicated terms that all cannot understand it? No, this would be placing a serious charge against God. God does want all to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth. Thus he revealed the truth in such simplicity that all can understand.

Then this question comes to mind. If the gospel is not complicated and hard to be understood, then why is there so much confusion among religious people? The answer to this question can be seen by observing the large number of doctrines and commandments that are being taught in the religious world, that are totally without Bible backing. They are doctrines that God did not reveal. They do not have the sanction of God. They do not trace their origin to the word of God. These human doctrines have caused people to become confused. if every preacher and teacher would lay these human tenets aside and just begin teaching the things that he can find authorized in the Bible, this confusion could be quickly disolved. All would be speaking the same thing. 1 Cor. 1:10. All would be speaking as the oracles of God. 1 Pet. 4:11. The simplicity which is in Christ could be seen by all. Yes, many are confused but that confusion does not come from God's Word. Study God's book.

Bill Passage Seen Shifting HEW's Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees have approved a bill that sources say will restrict enforcement of so-called school desegregation guidelines in the South.

As a result, these sources say, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, charged with enforcing the guidelines, probably will shift most of its energies to Northern school districts.

The conference committee took the action Thursday night and has not yet issued its report. But the substance was given out by several sources in the administration and Congress.

The civil rights provision originally proposed by Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., was added as a rider to an appropriations bill. It forbids HEW to use any of its funds to force busing of students, to force closing of any school or to force any youngster to attend a school against the wishes of his parents.

HEW officials say the crucial phrase is the one applying to the wishes of parents. This, they say, would virtually handcuff the department.

Administration officials contend that the provision clearly goes against a recent decision by the U.S. Supreme Court.

They expressed confidence that the court will strike down the provision eventually. But in the meantime - for at least a year-they fear the provision could devastate HEW's increasingly successful program to end most segreated school systems in the South by the fall of 1969.

HEW has been closing in rapidly on such systems in the past year by rejecting freedom-of-choice in full desegregation.

Freedom-of-choice allows parents to choose any school they want their youngsters to attend. Most such approaches have produced only token integration, HEW officials say.

The Supreme Court decision May 27 gave support to HEW's position. It held that if freedom-of-choice "fails to undo segregation, other means must be used to achieve this end."

Car Hits Pole, 3 Other Vehicles, Tree At Lisbon

LISBON—Police charged Roy G. Joseph, 44, of 606 W. Maple St. with driving an unsafe vehicle after a series of collisions at 4:35 p.m. Friday.

His car struck a utility pole, three vehicles and a tree. He posted a $25 bond for an appearance Tuesday before Mayor Clyde B. Pike.

Police said Joseph was driving south on Market St. (Route 45) when he came upon three southbound vehicles stopped for the traffic light at Jerome St. and was unable to stop because his 1962 sedan had no brakes. He steered off the right or west side of the street.

He scraped a telephone pole, grazed the right sides of the last two vehicles in line—a 1966 sedan driven by John W. Madison, 43, of Mechanicstown RD 1, and a Barth Farms truck operated by Harold L. Baer, 31, of Youngstown — then rammed a tree and bounced off it into the rear of the first car at the light — a 1967 station wagon driven by Harry E. Longanecker, 61, of Lisbon RD 5.

Police said Joseph's car was demolished. They estimated damage to Longanecker's vehicle at $400, Baer's truck at $15 and Madison's car at $25.

Jerry Sanders of Thomas Rd. notified police last night that an unidentified vehicle rammed the rear of his compact car parked on Thomas Rd. between 7 and 11.

Three Admitted To City Hospital In Area Mishaps

Alfred E. Smith of the YMCA is "fair" today after being admitted Friday following a fall in a local store.

Alan R. Adkins, son of Lynneol Adkins of Smiths Ferry, and Dennis Russell Jr., son of Dennis Russell of 1229 Center St., Wellsville, are both "satisfactory" from the football injuries. Adkins injured his left wrist and Russell his left arm.

Treated were Doreen Anthony, daughter of William Anthony of Park Ave., a laceration of the left index finger on a paring knife; James Cheeks, son of Robert Cheeks of Lisbon St., a right index finger injury while playing football.

Charles Papendray of 1058 Pennsylvania Ave., a dog bite on the left upper leg; Donald Brown Jr., son of Donald Brown of 1618 Commerce St., Wellsville, a left arm injury in a fall.

Ronald Trimer, son of John Trimer of 228 Center St., Wellsville, a laceration of the left eye area on the corner of a bed; Anthony Stacey, son of Laird Stacey of 1005 Main St., Wellsville, a right foot injury on a stick.

WHAT BELONGS WHERE? ??

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The hub of a railroad—the classification yard. Could you, without training or experience, take charge here? Could you sort and "spot" thousands of cars, have them ready at the right time on the right track to go out with the right train?

But every day your mind performs an operation even more complex. You sort and classify your thoughts and impulses. You decide what is right and wrong. You determine which actions are urgent, and which can be deferred. You resolve that some goals are important, and others are secondary. And every decision affects your life, and the lives of others!

Preparing men and women—and boys and girls—to make the right decisions is one of the great functions of the Church. There are sound Christian standards by which life's choices should be sorted. There is confidence and strength for those who seek, learn and practice the true Way of Life.

A. — By rubbing with a cloth that has been dipped into a half-and-half solution of turpentine and linseed oil. Furniture and its care are thoroughly dealt with in my household-hints book.

Q. — How can I forestall possible cracks and chips in my new kitchen enamelware?

A. — If you'll place the new enamelware in cold water and bring it to a slow boil, this should keep it from cracks and chips for a longer time.

Q.—How can I facilitate the opening of hard-shell clams?

A.—By first pouring boiling water over them.

Q.—How can I remove paint and putty stains from window glass?

A.—Rub over the glass with a wet cloth dipped in baking soda. Then, after 15 minutes or so, wash with clear warm water, rub until dry, and polish.

Q. — How can I be sure to avoid splitting when driving nails into wood?

A. — By pushing your nails beforehand through a cake of hard soap.

Q. — How can I remove grease spots from walls?

A. — One effective treatment is to dust a little talcum powder on the spot, let it set for about an hour, then dust off. The powder will usually absorb the grease and remove the spot.

Bill Passage Seen Shifting HEW's Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees have approved a bill that sources say will restrict enforcement of so-called school desegregation guidelines in the South.

As a result, these sources say, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, charged with enforcing the guidelines, probably will shift most of its energies to Northern school districts.

The conference committee took the action Thursday night and has not yet issued its report. But the substance was given out by several sources in the administration and Congress.

The civil rights provision originally proposed by Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., was added as a rider to an appropriations bill. It forbids HEW to use any of its funds to force busing of students, to force closing of any school or to force any youngster to attend a school against the wishes of his parents.

HEW officials say the crucial phrase is the one applying to the wishes of parents. This, they say, would virtually handcuff the department.

Administration officials contend that the provision clearly goes against a recent decision by the U.S. Supreme Court.

They expressed confidence that the court will strike down the provision eventually. But in the meantime - for at least a year-they fear the provision could devastate HEW's increasingly successful program to end most segreated school systems in the South by the fall of 1969.

HEW has been closing in rapidly on such systems in the past year by rejecting freedom-of-choice in full desegregation.

Freedom-of-choice allows parents to choose any school they want their youngsters to attend. Most such approaches have produced only token integration, HEW officials say.

The Supreme Court decision May 27 gave support to HEW's position. It held that if freedom-of-choice "fails to undo segregation, other means must be used to achieve this end."

Car Hits Pole, 3 Other Vehicles, Tree At Lisbon

LISBON—Police charged Roy G. Joseph, 44, of 606 W. Maple St. with driving an unsafe vehicle after a series of collisions at 4:35 p.m. Friday.

His car struck a utility pole, three vehicles and a tree. He posted a $25 bond for an appearance Tuesday before Mayor Clyde B. Pike.

Police said Joseph was driving south on Market St. (Route 45) when he came upon three southbound vehicles stopped for the traffic light at Jerome St. and was unable to stop because his 1962 sedan had no brakes. He steered off the right or west side of the street.

He scraped a telephone pole, grazed the right sides of the last two vehicles in line—a 1966 sedan driven by John W. Madison, 43, of Mechanicstown RD 1, and a Barth Farms truck operated by Harold L. Baer, 31, of Youngstown — then rammed a tree and bounced off it into the rear of the first car at the light — a 1967 station wagon driven by Harry E. Longanecker, 61, of Lisbon RD 5.

Police said Joseph's car was demolished. They estimated damage to Longanecker's vehicle at $400, Baer's truck at $15 and Madison's car at $25.

Jerry Sanders of Thomas Rd. notified police last night that an unidentified vehicle rammed the rear of his compact car parked on Thomas Rd. between 7 and 11.

The car was shiny and new when this photo was taken, but the number 115 above the cowcatcher indicates it was one of the earliest vintage that operated here.

STILLED HERALD. A streetcar whistle that once resounded through the Ohio Valley at the approach of a clattering trolley is held by J. ONCE THEY BOUND the Tri-State District together with ribbons of steel more than 50 miles long, but today a streetcar track is as rare as a dinosaur track.

It soon will be 30 years since the last red trolley clanged its way from Putnam St. to Wellsville and return, writing the end to an era that anyone over 40 remembers with a wave of warm nostalgia.

Buses were phased in by the Valley Motor Transit Co. as trolleys were phased out by the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction Co.

There are deserted, rusting hulks of the old streetcars in obscure pastures and wasting away alongside highways. They're curiosities to nearly two generations who never stood on a windswept street corner in pre-dawn hours watching for the familiar glow of the lone headlight.

There are other sights and sounds and smells that evoke a Pavlovian response and send memories flooding through one's brain. But nothing can match the general wave of nostalgia touched off in a crowd of middle-aged East Liverpool residents like the recollection of the swaying, monotonous rocking of the trolley, the screech of the steel wheels as it rounded a sharp turn, the hoot of the whistle, the warmth of the heaters on sodden feet on a cold winter's day and—above all—that indefinable odor peculiar to streetcars, winter and summer.

There was a time, in the days before World War II, that the streetcar was bound up intimately with the everyday lives and the special occasions remembered by just about everyone.

The worker boarded a crowded trolley on a corner near his home for the morning trip to the job. He came home at night, safe and sound, on the same trolley. And he traveled both ways with the same people every day, people who had ridden the car for years and had a claim staked on the same seat for that particular run.

The streetcar carried many youngsters to and from school through the week and conveyed the family to church and back on Sunday.

And if the special weekend occasion was a trip to Aunt Minnie's house in Toronto or a picnic at Thompson Park or Rock Springs Park, it was the streetcar that provided the transportation.

Families went to funerals and weddings by streetcar. Shopping trips and frequent jaunts to the movies began and ended with a streetcar. Memorable, long journeys by train to some such faraway place as Columbus or St. Louis also began and ended with the streetcar.

IT WAS AN ERA when the auto was commonplace, but not the necessity it was to become after World War II. Many family cars, acquired in the plush days of the 20's, went down the drain in the lean depression days in the early 30's.

So the streetcar became everyman's transportation. It ran on a schdeule varying from 15 to 30 minutes, depending upon the district, and its arrival was as dependable as the rising of the sun—and just as prompt.

Public transportation continued in high demand through most of World War II. By this time, many workingmen had amassed the means to acquire an auto, thanks to steady work, but the auto plants were shut down. In addition, tires and gasoline were rationed strictly, which meant that many cars were taken out of the garage only on weekends.

It was at the end of the war, after manufacturers began to catch up with the pent-up demand, that the proliferation of autos began to spell the end of public transportation.

The streetcars had been gone, of course, since before the war. It was the transit bus system that replaced the streetcars that finally wilted and nearly died under the competition from the auto.

"THE STREAM LINE," the traction called itself, displaying on emblem on the side of its streetcars which showed how it followed the stream—the Ohio River—from Steubenville to Beaver.

The track distance was 42.69 miles from one end of the system to the other on the main line—from the Pennsylvania Railroad station in Steubenville to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad terminal in Beaver. The entire trip required two hours and 20 minutes and once could be made for a 65-cent fare.

There were many off-shoots of the main line. For instance, the Chester run was a 4.64 mile round trip and the Grandview line was 6.5 miles both ways. The Pleasant Heights run was 3.2 miles, round trip.

J. Clifford Conley of 952 St. George St. saw much of the history of the streetcar company and the bus company unfold. For many years, he was a dispatcher at the car barn on Pennsylvania Ave. When the same company switched to operation of buses over virtually the same routes, he became an inspector at the then newly-erected terminal downtown.

Now a member of the City Planning Commission, Conley remembers the bus system with fondness, but recalls the halcyon days of the streetcar with downright love—like most of East Liverpool.

THE SHINY YELLOW and white cars that streaked along the main line were the pride of the traction system. On some shorter runs, the company used smaller cars of ancient vintage, all of them painted a distinctive red.

The mainline cars were manned by a conductor and a motorman — one to operate the controls and the other to collect the fares. On the city runs, in the later years, one man buses took over the duties of both the motorman and the conductor, which meant operating the controls while fumbling to make change and dodging passengers' umbrellas and packages.

Not long before the streetcars bowed out, the fare on a city line was 7 cents and a transfer was available for the passenger wishing to step off one streetcar onto another. Downtown East Liverpool was the terminal point, where all the streetcars converged, toughing off a wave of pedestrian traffic every quarter hour.

Conley recalls that the last runs were made on the Pleasant Heights, Grandview and interurban run on Dec. 18, 1938. Buses took over the service, operating over virtually the same lines and on the same schedules as the streetcars.

The other lines continued for a time, then the last run on the Wellsville-Putnam St. line was made on June 10, 1939. It marked "finish" to the traction service.

The last run was made on a Saturday night with a boisterious crowd of 100 aboard. The run began in East End, near the state line, headed for Wellsville. The car turned around at Wellsville and retraced its route to the carbarn on Pennsylvania Ave.

Hundreds stood along the right-of-way to catch a glimpse of the trolley, realizing it was the end of an era. It was one of the few times in the 50-year history of the traction service that a car did not keep to its schedule.

Ralph Kirchner was the motorman, but he was spelled at intervals by Ralph Blackburn, an inspector for the firm, and Robert McCreary. When the car pulled into the Diamond, even more passengers climbed aboard and jammed into the already crowded aisles. They were Wellsville youngsters en route home from their annual school picnic at Rock Springs Park.

THE WHISTLE sounded almost continually as the car rattled through West End, heading for Wellsville.

The late Howard J. Kaufman, a Review reporter, was one of the passengers. He reported that the passengers, most of them invited guests, began stripping part from the cars for souvenirs as it neared Wooster's Stop in the West End of Wellsville. Straps were removed from the overhead rails and many light globes were taken. As the crew turned the car around for the last leg of the trip, the souvenir hunters went to work in earnest.

The panels carrying the car's number, 264, were stripped away by two passengers as the trolley neared the barn in East End. They had made the trip equipped with screw drivers to help their souvenir hunting. Others climbed off with pushbuttons, window latches, seat handles, mirrors, seats, the curtain that shielded the motorman's compartment and even the doors.

It was 11:30 p. m. when the car stopped in front of the barn to allow the passengers to disembark. Dozens stood in the vicinity to watch old 264 clatter off Pennsylvania Ave.

E. B. ARBUTHNOT of Vine St. claimed the distinction of being a passenger on both the first and last runs of the East Liverpool-Wellsville trolley service. He was one of the guests on the line's last run.

Arbuthnot recalled that as a boy of 8 he rode along 6th St. in the first run between East Liverpool and Wellsville in 1891. He recalled that the car carried big banners on its sides advertising the start of service between the two cities.

The company's records showed the service was inaugurated Dec. 17, 1891.

Historians recalled that A. L. Johnson founded the line, operating cars between Boyce St. in East Liverpool and 10th St. at Wellsville.

The first car was shipped to East Liverpool by train and assembled on tracks at E. 2nd and Union St. by John Brozka and his son, John Brozka, who still was an employe of the traction company when the last car ran. In later years, cars were brought to East Liverpool by train from the manufacturers' shops in Cleveland, Niles and other Northeastern Ohio cities.

A "puddle jumper," as the early streetcars were nicknamed, is shown at a Mulberry St. stop with the late John Hanlon of Wellsville, motorman, left, and Jason Yaney of East Liverpool, conductor, at the right.

Chester C. Smith, then a patrolman and later a police captain, was among those who made the last streetcar journey.

Most of the abandoned streetcar rails vanished into limbo with East Liverpool, the rails reverted to the city when no longer in use.

East Liverpool signed a contract with a man who had patented a rail-pulling machine. The huge claw lifted long sections of the tracks bodily from the streets. Then they were sold to scrap yards, eventually finding their way into steel furnaces to help build weapons for World War II, and possibly the snappy 1940 model cars.

CONLEY HAS the whistles off two of the last cars—the one which made the famous East Liverpool-Wellsville run in 1939 and another that closed out the Pleasant Heights-Grandview-interurban runs in December 1938.

They're among the store of mementos that he collected as the streetcars bowed out and the buses took over.

The buses were seen then as the wave of the future, so far as public transportation was concerned. No one could visualize that the Valley Motor Transit Co., which operated them, would bow out in just 16 more years.

Valley Motor, hit by declining patronage and rising costs, ran its last bus in December 1955.

But it didn't evoke nostalgia on a par with the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Tranction Co.'s demise, symbolized by No. 264's journey.

Somewhere along the weed-grown right-of-way between Midland and Smiths Ferry there may yet be the ghostly echo of the conductor's voice calling: "Stop Nine, Stop Nine!"

SMELL THE PLUSH? High-backed seats in many of the trolleys on the interurban line were covered with green plush that had an odor all its own, particularly on damp days. Another standby of trolley days that brought the company a little added revenue—the so-called "car cards," advertising products of every description that were stuck in metal holders above the windows.

END OF THE LINE. Although the trolley accident rate was extremely low, this streetcar came to grief on a snowy day on the St. Clair Ave. line just below Grant St., diving off the tracks and plunging into two homes. The photo dates back to 1912 or 1913.

BUSTLES AND HOBBLE SKIRTS were real hazards at the turn of the century for belles who boarded this streetcar for an outing at Rock Springs Park. The car was shiny and new when this photo was taken, but the number 115 above the cowcatcher indicates it was one of the earliest vintage that operated here.

Trolley Era Recalled

By ROBERT POPP

STILLED HERALD. A streetcar whistle that once resounded through the Ohio Valley at the approach of a clattering trolley is held by J. Clifford Conley of St. George St., a former employe who saw much of the traction company's history unfold and then worked for its successor, a bus firm. In the foreground are other items for Conley's collection, including a lantern and the bells and buzzers once used on the streetcars.

PRIZE FISH. Frank Arnold of Rochester, left, and Irvin McConnell of East Liverpool show the three coho salmon they landed in stream feeding into Lake Michigan.

IF YOU ARE A FISHERMAN and can envision hooking into a fast moving freight train with a very light spinning outfit, then you have some idea of what it is like to catch a coho salmon. So say three district men who spent three days in Michigan fishing for this horse of a fish.

Irvin McConnell of Lisbon St. Ext., Glenmoor, Bill Hawthorne of Industry and Frank Arnold of Rochester say it is an experience they will never forget.

And, they say the main run of coho had not started.

The trio fished the area of Manistee, Mich., Coho Capital of the World, Sept. 16-18.

Although they only landed three, they hooked into a "truck load." The three they managed to land weighed in at 23, 18, and 17 pounds. These are three-year cycle fish, but still are tackle-busters.

Irvin says Lake Michigan was too rough for smaller boats, so they fished in Bear Creek. The larger craft were on the lake, but the fishing parties did not have as good luck as those who used the streams.

Not much wider than Columbiana County's Beaver Creek, the Michigan stream was fast running and deep. Irvin says the water was extremely cold, but fishermen in waders stood shoulder to shoulder in waist deep water.

The shoreline was also lined solid with fishermen of all ages.

It was impossible to avoid tangled lines, but all proved to be real sportsmen, Irvin says, continuing that when the lines did become snarled, everyone made an effort to help. Many times it was necessary to cut the lines and start all over again.

THE POWER of the fish make it necessary to use heavy tackle. Irvin says he was using light saltwater gear—a heavy, stiff boat pole and a reel with a star drag.

When a coho would hit, it would strip off 60-pound test line with such force the reel would squeal and the drag would start smoking.

In the streams, the fish head immediately for brush piles and it is necessary to have heavy tackle to stop them. Even with heavy tackle this is virtually impossible most of the time, Irvin says.

Smaller tackle was just not suitable and along the banks were the remains of light reels of all kinds—worn out or literally broken apart by the srain, he says.

Silver spoons proved the best lure for the trio. They say the native Michiganers were extremely friendly and helpful, even though the entire countryside was crowded with fishermen from all parts of the country.

Wildlife personnel were on hand to assist fishermen and direct them to "hot spots." Irvin says planes were used by the state to locate schools of fish in Lake Michigan and plot their size and direction of travel. Information of this nature was provided the fishermen.

The trio already has started plans for a return trip next year. It's a fishing experience you never forget, they say.

Both Ohio and Pennsylvania stocked coho salmon in Lake Erie this year and weekly reports indicate the fish are growing. So, maybe by next fall, area fishermen will not have to travel to Michigan, but can get some exciting sport in Erie.

ILLEGAL HUNTING COSTLY. Two Columbus residents have discovered it is cheaper to obey the hunting laws. Both paid heavily for illegal possession of squirrels.

David Parker, arrested or Labor Day, forfeited a $105 bond for possession of five squirrels during the closed season.

Edgar Muncy was charged with possession of 13 squirrels over the limit and forfeited a $205 band.

Dale Roach, law enforcement supervisor for the Division of Wildlife,says another illegal act that has been increasing over the years is the shooting of deer during squirrel season.

LITTLE JUG CATCHES BIG COON. Merlin Brown of Salem found a masked visitor inside his service station when he opened for business one morning, but it was a raccoon and not a burglar.

The young coon apparently slipped into the building during the night. It was easy to catch because its head had become lodged in a thermos jug Brown had left behind.

Various attempts were made to free the animal, but to no avail. Finally, Brown used an acetylene torch to cut open the thermos.

Ralph Drake, Columbiana County game protector, says "There is one coon that probably will never touch another drop out of a jug again."

ARCHERY SEASON for deer in Pennsylvania opened today. The regular archery season will close Oct. 25, but an extended 15-day archery season is scheduled to begin Dec. 26.

Jacksnipe season opens Tuesday and goose and bran season opens next Saturday, except in Crawford and Erie Counties.

The season on ruffed grouse, squirrel, woodcock, duck, coot and merganser begins Oct. 12. The general small game season opens Oct. 26.

Major portions of 48 state parks in Pennsylvania will be open to small and large game hunting this season.

This includes Raccoon Creek Park in Beaver County.

BEAR MEETING. West Virginia has scheduled a session to discuss permitted bear hunting. It will be Oct. 7 at Marlington at 7 p.m.

T. R. Samsell, director of the Natural Resources Department, will serve as moderator. Interested sportsmen, landowners and the general public are invited to express their views.

HOT WEEKEND. Any fisherman who lets this weekend go by is definitely missing out—so says West Virginia's fishing forecaster, Sam Vandevender.

He says fishing has been good over the state all week and says two outstanding catches were reported. A four pound, nine ounce smallmouth bass was caught in the Elk River near Gassaway and a five pound, eleven ounce smallmouth was caught in the tailwater of Sutton Lake.

Walleyes have been hitting in the Elk below Sutton Dam and bass have been biting in most streams and lakes. The water conditions are good.

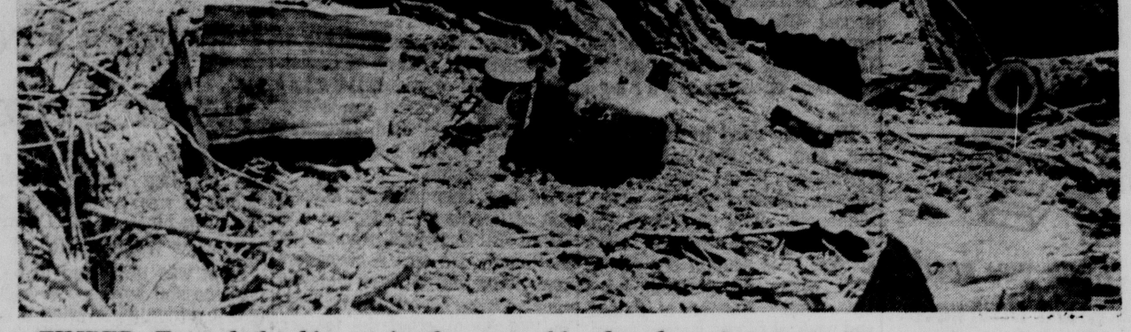

SHOOT PLANNED The Toronto Rod and Gun Club will hold a turkey shoot Sunday at 10 a.m. at the club grounds off the Hollow Rock Rd.

WHAT'S ON THE MENU? Everyone has his favorite jargon that is used for food served while on an outing or in the hunting or fishing camp.

Some are real gems. For example there is hot on the hoof, crying gems, loaded lava, rootin' snoot, Alaska icebergs, Ohio on the rocks, flapjacks, overland trout (ala skin), slippery go down, black mud, South American hot brownie, blow hole johnnies and sweet water.

Of course there are many, many other names used to describe various dishes or foods.

How many can you guess from the above list? If you run into trouble, just ask some Boy Scout.

TIMBER. Termed the biggest in the area, this elm along Armstrong Ln. was downed by Tom Dubberly, tree trimmer, under contract with the Liverpool Township trustees who said the dead tree had become a hazard.

HEFTY COHO. Bill Hawthorne of Industry displays one of the husky fish caught in Michigan during the early coho salmon run last week.

The Younger Set

Did you know that September is known as "Better Breakfast Month?" Remember when your teacher would ask, "Did you wash your ears this morning?" and "What did you have for breakfast?" Well, most high school and college instructors forgoe that telltale sign of an "elementary" past, but the basic thoughts are good. Let's face it, nobody looks becoming while cramming his face with chips and bubble gum during a mid-morning class. Why not, for a change, try eating a decent breakfast?

NEW BLUE LOOK IN GYM—Lincoln High's girls gym classes look sharp in their required uniform of Navy blue shorts with long tunic top. Students in the Physics class recently conducted an experiment from a window ledge on the third floor to see how tall the school building is. Using a weight tied to a string, the group lowered it out of the window and down the side of the building, unnerving a few science class students on the first floor. The conclusion? It is 128 feet from the ledge to the ground below. John Christon, the instructor, believes that students learn by participating in experiments. Pretty cool . . .

KEYS TO THEIR HEARTS—Beaver Local Key Clubbers brightened the lives of citizens of the Columbiana County Home near Lisbon Wednesday, when they spent the evening playing checkers (and probably losing more than they admit), talking and being "company" to the residents. A community service project for the month, the visitation was termed a success by the members who carried away a little wisdom in place of their donated time. The boys provided a box of cakes, pies and other goodies to give the visit a festive air. Good show, guys! . . .

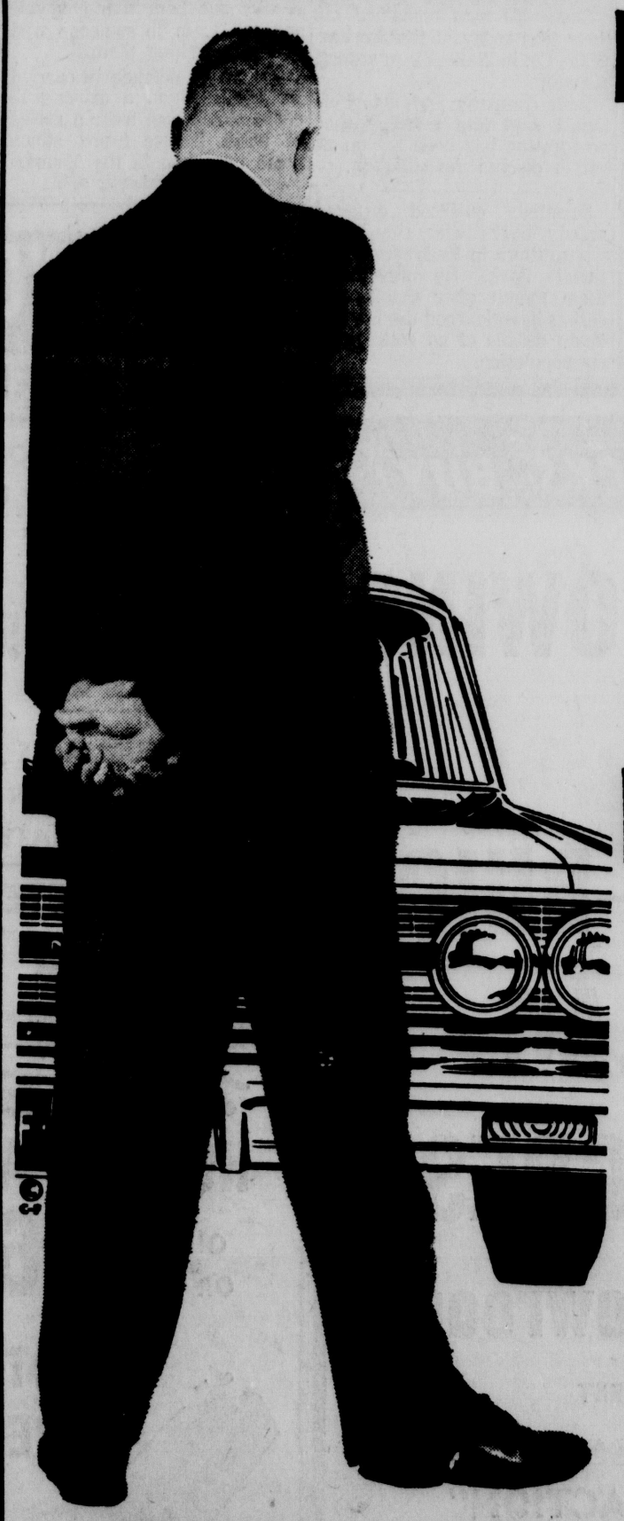

PIZZA PARTY FOR WHOM?—The members of Western Beaver's junior class have just completed a magazine sale. A pizza party will be held for the homeroom selling the most mags. Proceeds will be used for the Junior-Senior prom next spring. . . . FASHION NAMES OLD FAVORITES; NEW 'LOOKERS'—Fashion here includes easy-on-the-feet loafers, "baby doll" patents, pinkie rings and lots of leather! . . . GOT A SWEET TOOTH?—Band members will begin a door-to-door candy sale Tuesday . . . ELECTIONS HELD—All the homerooms are adjusting rapidly to the new officers elected this past week. . . .

HER "CROWNING GLORY"—One of the Oak Glen senior girls chosen as Homecoming Queen candidates will be in her "crowning glory" next Friday night at the football game between our Golden Bears and Tridelphia. Named were Molly Allison, Janet Amedeo, Kathy Conklin, Cheris Hood and Joy Stanley. The two junior attendants chosen were Caroyn Collins and Debbie Shroades. Good luck—may the best "man" win!

ORIENTAL SLANT ON THESPIANS—Yuko Takebiashi, the Japanese exchange student at East Liverpool High, was made an honorary member of the Thespians during a recen meeting presided over by president Herb Purton. Initiation is scheduled Oct. 15 . . . A SERIOUS PROBLEM — The Keramos Echo staff has a good reason for looking grim these days. If 1,000 subscriptions are not obtained, the result will be a mimeographed rag with no pictures. A vote was taken to make the purchase of the KE compulsory to join those clubs affiliated with the school, the staffers said . . . HERE'S A REAL DEAL - - The Booster Club has started a money-making game. A description of one of the faculty is given each week, and the one who guesses the right name wins a free ticket to the upcoming game . . .

THE SPIRIT STICK HAS RETURNED — A regular addition to South Side's pep assemblies is the spirit stick. It is won by the class that cheers the loudest. Seniors won this week . . . KERR CRAZY — WILLIAM M. Kerr, former English teacher, is a great principal! Already students have gained an extra free period at noon. Listen to records, dance or just gab—it's a great feeling. Thank you, Mr. Kerr . . . HOW SWEET OF YOU! — The band is selling candy to raise funds . . . PLANS FOR A BETTER 1969 RAMBLER — The "Rambler" yearbook staff is busy collecting ads for the greatest book ever . . .

PRIZE FISH. Frank Arnold of Rochester, left, and Irvin McConnell of East Liverpool show the three coho salmon they landed in stream feeding into Lake Michigan.

IF YOU ARE A FISHERMAN and can envision hooking into a fast moving freight train with a very light spinning outfit, then you have some idea of what it is like to catch a coho salmon. So say three district men who spent three days in Michigan fishing for this horse of a fish.

Irvin McConnell of Lisbon St. Ext., Glenmoor, Bill Hawthorne of Industry and Frank Arnold of Rochester say it is an experience they will never forget.

And, they say the main run of coho had not started.

The trio fished the area of Manistee, Mich., Coho Capital of the World, Sept. 16-18.

Although they only landed three, they hooked into a "truck load." The three they managed to land weighed in at 23, 18, and 17 pounds. These are three-year cycle fish, but still are tackle-busters.

Irvin says Lake Michigan was too rough for smaller boats, so they fished in Bear Creek. The larger craft were on the lake, but the fishing parties did not have as good luck as those who used the streams.

Not much wider than Columbiana County's Beaver Creek, the Michigan stream was fast running and deep. Irvin says the water was extremely cold, but fishermen in waders stood shoulder to shoulder in waist deep water.

The shoreline was also lined solid with fishermen of all ages.

It was impossible to avoid tangled lines, but all proved to be real sportsmen, Irvin says, continuing that when the lines did become snarled, everyone made an effort to help. Many times it was necessary to cut the lines and start all over again.

THE POWER of the fish make it necessary to use heavy tackle. Irvin says he was using light saltwater gear—a heavy, stiff boat pole and a reel with a star drag.

When a coho would hit, it would strip off 60-pound test line with such force the reel would squeal and the drag would start smoking.

In the streams, the fish head immediately for brush piles and it is necessary to have heavy tackle to stop them. Even with heavy tackle this is virtually impossible most of the time, Irvin says.

Smaller tackle was just not suitable and along the banks were the remains of light reels of all kinds—worn out or literally broken apart by the srain, he says.

Silver spoons proved the best lure for the trio. They say the native Michiganers were extremely friendly and helpful, even though the entire countryside was crowded with fishermen from all parts of the country.

Wildlife personnel were on hand to assist fishermen and direct them to "hot spots." Irvin says planes were used by the state to locate schools of fish in Lake Michigan and plot their size and direction of travel. Information of this nature was provided the fishermen.

The trio already has started plans for a return trip next year. It's a fishing experience you never forget, they say.

Both Ohio and Pennsylvania stocked coho salmon in Lake Erie this year and weekly reports indicate the fish are growing. So, maybe by next fall, area fishermen will not have to travel to Michigan, but can get some exciting sport in Erie.

ILLEGAL HUNTING COSTLY. Two Columbus residents have discovered it is cheaper to obey the hunting laws. Both paid heavily for illegal possession of squirrels.

David Parker, arrested or Labor Day, forfeited a $105 bond for possession of five squirrels during the closed season.

Edgar Muncy was charged with possession of 13 squirrels over the limit and forfeited a $205 band.

Dale Roach, law enforcement supervisor for the Division of Wildlife,says another illegal act that has been increasing over the years is the shooting of deer during squirrel season.

LITTLE JUG CATCHES BIG COON. Merlin Brown of Salem found a masked visitor inside his service station when he opened for business one morning, but it was a raccoon and not a burglar.

The young coon apparently slipped into the building during the night. It was easy to catch because its head had become lodged in a thermos jug Brown had left behind.

Various attempts were made to free the animal, but to no avail. Finally, Brown used an acetylene torch to cut open the thermos.

Ralph Drake, Columbiana County game protector, says "There is one coon that probably will never touch another drop out of a jug again."

ARCHERY SEASON for deer in Pennsylvania opened today. The regular archery season will close Oct. 25, but an extended 15-day archery season is scheduled to begin Dec. 26.

Jacksnipe season opens Tuesday and goose and bran season opens next Saturday, except in Crawford and Erie Counties.

The season on ruffed grouse, squirrel, woodcock, duck, coot and merganser begins Oct. 12. The general small game season opens Oct. 26.

Major portions of 48 state parks in Pennsylvania will be open to small and large game hunting this season.

This includes Raccoon Creek Park in Beaver County.

BEAR MEETING. West Virginia has scheduled a session to discuss permitted bear hunting. It will be Oct. 7 at Marlington at 7 p.m.

T. R. Samsell, director of the Natural Resources Department, will serve as moderator. Interested sportsmen, landowners and the general public are invited to express their views.

HOT WEEKEND. Any fisherman who lets this weekend go by is definitely missing out—so says West Virginia's fishing forecaster, Sam Vandevender.

He says fishing has been good over the state all week and says two outstanding catches were reported. A four pound, nine ounce smallmouth bass was caught in the Elk River near Gassaway and a five pound, eleven ounce smallmouth was caught in the tailwater of Sutton Lake.

Walleyes have been hitting in the Elk below Sutton Dam and bass have been biting in most streams and lakes. The water conditions are good.

SHOOT PLANNED The Toronto Rod and Gun Club will hold a turkey shoot Sunday at 10 a.m. at the club grounds off the Hollow Rock Rd.

WHAT'S ON THE MENU? Everyone has his favorite jargon that is used for food served while on an outing or in the hunting or fishing camp.

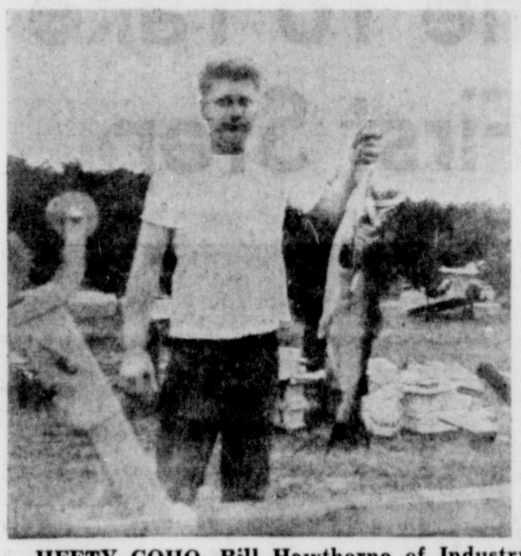

Some are real gems. For example there is hot on the hoof, crying gems, loaded lava, rootin' snoot, Alaska icebergs, Ohio on the rocks, flapjacks, overland trout (ala skin), slippery go down, black mud, South American hot brownie, blow hole johnnies and sweet water.

Of course there are many, many other names used to describe various dishes or foods.

How many can you guess from the above list? If you run into trouble, just ask some Boy Scout.

TIMBER. Termed the biggest in the area, this elm along Armstrong Ln. was downed by Tom Dubberly, tree trimmer, under contract with the Liverpool Township trustees who said the dead tree had become a hazard.

HEFTY COHO. Bill Hawthorne of Industry displays one of the husky fish caught in Michigan during the early coho salmon run last week.

The Younger Set

Did you know that September is known as "Better Breakfast Month?" Remember when your teacher would ask, "Did you wash your ears this morning?" and "What did you have for breakfast?" Well, most high school and college instructors forgoe that telltale sign of an "elementary" past, but the basic thoughts are good. Let's face it, nobody looks becoming while cramming his face with chips and bubble gum during a mid-morning class. Why not, for a change, try eating a decent breakfast?

NEW BLUE LOOK IN GYM—Lincoln High's girls gym classes look sharp in their required uniform of Navy blue shorts with long tunic top. Students in the Physics class recently conducted an experiment from a window ledge on the third floor to see how tall the school building is. Using a weight tied to a string, the group lowered it out of the window and down the side of the building, unnerving a few science class students on the first floor. The conclusion? It is 128 feet from the ledge to the ground below. John Christon, the instructor, believes that students learn by participating in experiments. Pretty cool . . .

KEYS TO THEIR HEARTS—Beaver Local Key Clubbers brightened the lives of citizens of the Columbiana County Home near Lisbon Wednesday, when they spent the evening playing checkers (and probably losing more than they admit), talking and being "company" to the residents. A community service project for the month, the visitation was termed a success by the members who carried away a little wisdom in place of their donated time. The boys provided a box of cakes, pies and other goodies to give the visit a festive air. Good show, guys! . . .

PIZZA PARTY FOR WHOM?—The members of Western Beaver's junior class have just completed a magazine sale. A pizza party will be held for the homeroom selling the most mags. Proceeds will be used for the Junior-Senior prom next spring. . . . FASHION NAMES OLD FAVORITES; NEW 'LOOKERS'—Fashion here includes easy-on-the-feet loafers, "baby doll" patents, pinkie rings and lots of leather! . . . GOT A SWEET TOOTH?—Band members will begin a door-to-door candy sale Tuesday . . . ELECTIONS HELD—All the homerooms are adjusting rapidly to the new officers elected this past week. . . .

HER "CROWNING GLORY"—One of the Oak Glen senior girls chosen as Homecoming Queen candidates will be in her "crowning glory" next Friday night at the football game between our Golden Bears and Tridelphia. Named were Molly Allison, Janet Amedeo, Kathy Conklin, Cheris Hood and Joy Stanley. The two junior attendants chosen were Caroyn Collins and Debbie Shroades. Good luck—may the best "man" win!

ORIENTAL SLANT ON THESPIANS—Yuko Takebiashi, the Japanese exchange student at East Liverpool High, was made an honorary member of the Thespians during a recent meeting presided over by president Herb Purton. Initiation is scheduled Oct. 15 . . . A SERIOUS PROBLEM — The Kermamos Echo staff has a good reason for looking grim these days. If 1,000 subscriptions are not obtained, the result will be a mimeographed rag with no pictures. A vote was taken to make the purchase of the KE compulsory to join those clubs affiliated with the school, the staffers said . . . HERE'S A REAL DEAL - - The Booster Club has started a money-making game. A description of one of the faculty is given each week, and the one who guesses the right name wins a free ticket to the upcoming game . . .

THE SPIRIT STICK HAS RETURNED — A regular addition to South Side's pep assemblies is the spirit stick. It is won by the class that cheers the loudest. Seniors won this week . . . KERR CRAZY — WILLIAM M. Kerr, former English teacher, is a great principal! Already students have gained an extra free period at noon. Listen to records, dance or just gab—it's a great feeling. Thank you, Mr. Kerr . . . HOW SWEET OF YOU! — The band is selling candy to raise funds . . . PLANS FOR A BETTER 1969 RAMBLER — The "Rambler" yearbook staff is busy collecting ads for the greatest book ever . . .

"WARRIOR" PRICE IS GOING UP — Subscriptions for the Southern's 1969 "Warrior" yearbook at $3.50 ended Friday. The next sale period will be from Nov. 25 through Dec. 6 when it'll cost 50 cents more. Forgers Peddle Checks Stolen From Area Plant

COLUMBIANA — Forgers are peddling checks stolen a couple of weeks ago at the Hydrotherm plant on the Columbiana - New Waterford Rd.

What was presumed to be an unsuccessful burglary developed into a major theft when a canceled check was returned to the local company. The check was made out to an unknown payee and carried a number not yet in use.

Investigation revealed 1,000 blank checks (series 2,100 to 3,100) had been stolen from a box in a cabinet.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan said the thief broke into the rear of the plant at night and apparently entered the office. Nothing appeared disturbed and authorities could find nothing missing.

The sheriff said the collection of cashed checks is growing. Three persons have been charged in Youngstown, Hubbard and New Castle.

He said investigators believe the thieves write a series of checks, put them in an envelope and sell them to someone who will risk cashing them.

One of the defendants carried for identification a driver's license which was from a series of blank license forms stolen some time ago in the Youngstown area, the sheriff said.

The checks were written by machine. Hydrotherm's check writer was not stolen.

Crucible Sets Meeting On Colt Consolidation

A special meeting of the Crucible Steel Corp. stockholders has been rescheduled on Oct. 17 for a vote on the proposed consolidation with Colt Industries.

The meeting, to be held at the Hilton Hotel in Pittsburgh, originally was set for Oct. 15, but was postponed due to some delays in the preparation of the complex proxy statements, a spokesman explained.

Stockholders of record Sept. 13 will be eligible to vote at the meeting. Colt Industries stockholders will vote on the proposal at a special meeting Oct. 15 in Chicago.

favor of the new charter," the source said "this could throw doubt on the credibility of the referendum."

If approved, the constitution goes into effect immediately except for 12 of the 138 articles. The 12 deal with individual freedoms and press censorship.

Strongman Premier George Papadopoulos crowned a two-month government campaign for the constitution with a radio and television address urging the nation to vote "yes" for a "healthy parliamentary system."

He said the constitution was "democratic and up to date," and called it unique because "it was not the product of a team of experts sitting in convention hall but of the Greek people since hundreds of thousands of Greeks took part in drafting it."

Minor Accidents Are Investigated

Three minor traffic mishaps were investigated by police here Friday.

William E. Hildebrand, 17, of Beacon Way was leaving a parking place on Broadway at 5:11 p.m. when his car struck the right front fender and door of a sedan driven by John R. Sears, 45, of 231 E. 2nd St., police said.

In an accident at 2:48 p.m., cars driven by Nile H. Wain, 65, of 1120 Beaver St., Midland, and Mrs. Gloria J. Pugh, 27, of Smiths Dairy Rd. collided at the Valu King parking lot near Pennsylvania Ave.

Wain told police he was parked and as he opened his car door it was struck by the Pugh auto. Mrs. Pugh said she couldn't stop in time to avoid the mishap.

A station wagon driven by Gary A. Hicks, 25, of 607 Florida Ave., Chester, was struck in the rear on Walnut St. at 3:16 p.m. by a sedan driven by Robert James Davis, 18, of 411 Jackson St.

Davis told police he was traveling south and thought he had room to pass. He was cited for driving without a license.

Crash Hurts City Woman

A city woman is "fair" today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a one-car mishap on the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd. early today.

Mrs. Mary Lou Harris Adkins of 1069 Pennsylvania Ave. was headed south on the roadway about 5 a.m. when she lost control of her 1967 sports auto, Ohioville Police Sgt. Leo LeFebvre said. The car veered from the highway and smashed into a large stone.

The mishap occurred about 1,000 feet north of the Route 68 intersection.

She suffered a laceration of the forehead and contusions of the chest and right shoulder.

William Smith of Calcutta, a passing motorist, took her to the hospital.

Motorist Uninjured In Car Creek Plunge

Francis L. Kelly, 61, of 743 2nd Ave., Koppel, Pa., was cited for failing to halt at a stop sign by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon as the result of a one-car accident Friday.

The patrol said Kelly was driving a 1966 station wagon on Route 558 about a mile south of New Waterford at 8:45 p.m. when it slid through the intersection and into a creek. He was not injured.

Earl E. Allcorn, 39, of Sebring was driving a 1965 bus belonging to the Church of Christ at 11:10 p.m. Friday on Route 172 at Guilford Lake, when Thomas W. Hall of Depot St., Rogers, 42, in a 1966 convertible, drove out of the Mark's Landing Rd. and struck the bus. Hall was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Forgers Peddle Checks Stolen From Area Plant

COLUMBIANA — Forgers are peddling checks stolen a couple of weeks ago at the Hydrotherm plant on the Columbiana - New Waterford Rd.

What was presumed to be an unsuccessful burglary developed into a major theft when a canceled check was returned to the local company. The check was made out to an unknown payee and carried a number not yet in use.

Investigation revealed 1,000 blank checks (series 2,100 to 3,100) had been stolen from a box in a cabinet.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan said the thief broke into the rear of the plant at night and apparently entered the office. Nothing appeared disturbed and authorities could find nothing missing.

The sheriff said the collection of cashed checks is growing. Three persons have been charged in Youngstown, Hubbard and New Castle.

He said investigators believe the thieves write a series of checks, put them in an envelope and sell them to someone who will risk cashing them.

One of the defendants carried for identification a driver's license which was from a series of blank license forms stolen some time ago in the Youngstown area, the sheriff said.

The checks were written by machine. Hydrotherm's check writer was not stolen.

The meeting, to be held at the Hilton Hotel in Pittsburgh, originally was set for Oct. 15, but was postponed due to some delays in the preparation of the complex proxy statements, a spokesman explained.

Stockholders of record Sept. 13 will be eligible to vote at the meeting. Colt Industries stockholders will vote on the proposal at a special meeting Oct. 15 in Chicago.

favor of the new charter," the source said "this could throw doubt on the credibility of the referendum."

If approved, the constitution goes into effect immediately except for 12 of the 138 articles. The 12 deal with individual freedoms and press censorship.

Strongman Premier George Papadopoulos crowned a two-month government campaign for the constitution with a radio and television address urging the nation to vote "yes" for a "healthy parliamentary system."

He said the constitution was "democratic and up to date," and called it unique because "it was not the product of a team of experts sitting in convention hall but of the Greek people since hundreds of thousands of Greeks took part in drafting it."

Minor Accidents Are Investigated

Three minor traffic mishaps were investigated by police here Friday.

William E. Hildebrand, 17, of Beacon Way was leaving a parking place on Broadway at 5:11 p.m. when his car struck the right front fender and door of a sedan driven by John R. Sears, 45, of 231 E. 2nd St., police said.

In an accident at 2:48 p.m., cars driven by Nile H. Wain, 65, of 1120 Beaver St., Midland, and Mrs. Gloria J. Pugh, 27, of Smiths Dairy Rd. collided at the Valu King parking lot near Pennsylvania Ave.

Wain told police he was parked and as he opened his car door it was struck by the Pugh auto. Mrs. Pugh said she couldn't stop in time to avoid the mishap.

A station wagon driven by Gary A. Hicks, 25, of 607 Florida Ave., Chester, was struck in the rear on Walnut St. at 3:16 p.m. by a sedan driven by Robert James Davis, 18, of 411 Jackson St.

Davis told police he was traveling south and thought he had room to pass. He was cited for driving without a license.

Crash Hurts City Woman

A city woman is "fair" today at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a one-car mishap on the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd. early today.

Mrs. Mary Lou Harris Adkins of 1069 Pennsylvania Ave. was headed south on the roadway about 5 a.m. when she lost control of her 1967 sports auto, Ohioville Police Sgt. Leo LeFebvre said. The car veered from the highway and smashed into a large stone.

The mishap occurred about 1,000 feet north of the Route 68 intersection.

She suffered a laceration of the forehead and contusions of the chest and right shoulder.

William Smith of Calcutta, a passing motorist, took her to the hospital.

The patrol said Kelly was driving a 1966 station wagon on Route 558 about a mile south of New Waterford at 8:45 p.m. when it slid through the intersection and into a creek. He was not injured.

Earl E. Allcorn, 39, of Sebring was driving a 1965 bus belonging to the Church of Christ at 11:10 p.m. Friday on Route 172 at Guilford Lake, when Thomas W. Hall of Depot St., Rogers, 42, in a 1966 convertible, drove out of the Mark's Landing Rd. and struck the bus. Hall was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Diddle, Bowersock Lead Beavers Over Oak Glen 19-0

BULLDOZING BOWERSOCK. Jim Bowersock of Beaver Local stiff-arms Ed Kirchner of Oak Glen during action at Newell last night. Beavers won 19-0.

70-Yard Score Opens Contest

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Bruce Diddle ran 70 yards from scrimmage for a TD on the first play of the game and Beaver Local went on to defeat Oak Glen 19-0 at Newell Memorial Stadium Friday night.

The win evened the Beavers' record under Dick Bryan at 2-2, while Alan Hoover is still looking for his first win after five games at the Oak Glen helm.

The Beavers, not attempting a single pass, rolled up 285 yards rushing, 174 by Diddle on 13 carries and 106 by Jim Bowersock in 13 carries. Bowersock burst 44 yards for a score in the second period and scored again with 2:22 left in the game, with the final score being set up by a 73-yard run by Diddle. Aside from the three long runs, the game was a defensive battle, with neither team being able to move consistently.

The Beaver Local linebacking corps of Scott Dubberly, Lew Brown and Diddle had another good game, keeping sophomore quarterback John Everly off balance. The defensive line, led by Gary Klembara and Tom Wolfe, generally halted the Golden Bears up the middle.

The Bears bottled up the center effectively, but Bowersock and Diddle got around the outside several times. On the first play Diddle cut off left tackle and went down the East sideline without a hand being laid on him, putting the Beavers on the scoreboard with only 35 seconds elapsed.

After forcing a punt, the Beavers got a break. Tim Mellon fumbled on the Beaver 15 and Bobby Coleman recovered for Oak Glen, but the Golden Bears were offside on the play, and the Beavers were able to punt out of danger.

The first quarter was a punting duel, producing only two first downs. With 9:41 left in the half Bowersock took a pitchout to the right, cut back over tackle and went 44 yards for the second Beaver score.

Oak Glen appeared to start moving when Everly completed a pass to Steve Staley for 13 yards, but a penalty nullified the play. There were no other passes attempted in the first half.

Near the end of the half Beaver Local drove from its own 33 to the Oak Glen 9, with Bowersock doing most of the running. But Mellon was caught attempting to pass on fourth down and the threat died.

The third quarter saw the only sustained Oak Glen drive of the night, as the Bears drove from their own 37 to the Beaver Local 26, helped by a roughing the kicker penalty. But the home team lost the ball on downs.

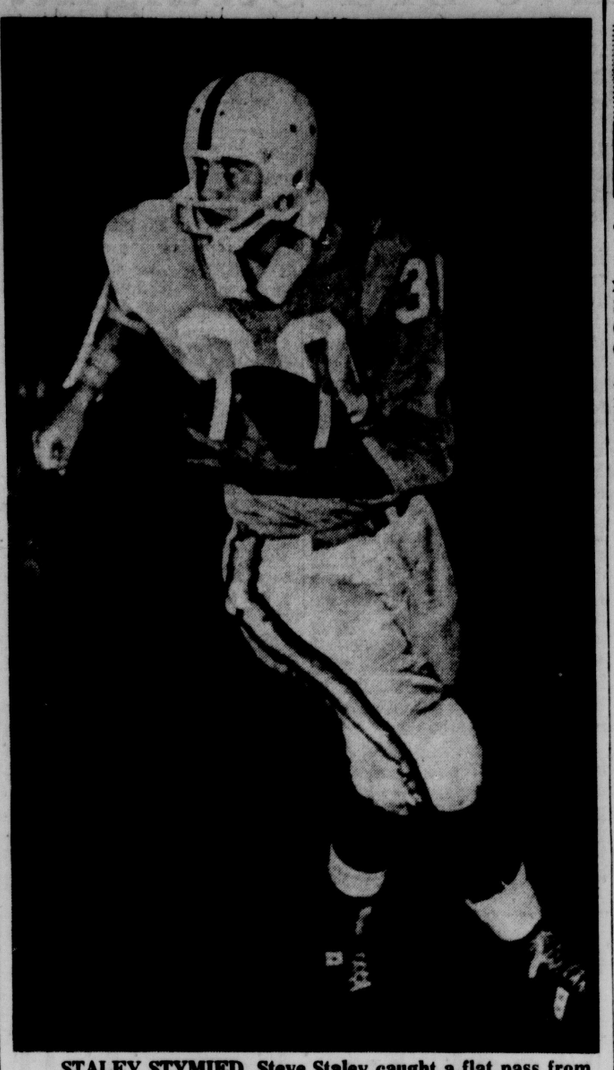

The deepest penetration for Oak Glen was in the last period, when Karl Sayre carried for 12 and then 26 yards to the 19, with the last man stopping him on the second run. On fourth and three at the 12 Sayre was stopped just short of a first down.

After Brown gained six yards, Diddle shot through left tackle again, but had to fight downfield traffic. He broke one tackle at the Oak Glen 40, and was finally knocked out of bounds by Gary Masters at the 11. Bowersock went around left end to score on the second play and Mellon sneaked over for the extra point.

Sayre was the leading rusher for Oak Glen with 66 yards in 10 carries. Greg Hobbbs, the leading rusher for the Bears, missed the game with a dislocated shoulder. Ed Kirchan missed the second half with an ankle injury.

Leetonia Nips Bulldogs, Boosts Record To 4-0

EAST PALESTINE — Leetonia set the stage for an important Tri-County League battle with Minerva next week by nipping East Palestine, 22-21, here Friday night.

A touchdown with 1:12 remaining in the game gave Leetonia the nod but a field goal attempt from the Leetonia 19 by East Palestine's Larry Rudloff with 20 seconds to go almost went through the uprights.

The undefeated Leetonia eleven marched 55 yards to score the winning touchdown as Tom Conrad went over from the one yard line for his second TD of the night and Ken DiCross added the crucial conversion.

East Palestine came right back and with 20 seconds to go marched to the Leetonia 19. Rudloff's placement had enough distance only to go wide to the right by inches.

The nip and tuck battle of the undefeated saw the host Bulldogs score first when Tim Blythe went over from the five yard line. Rudloff's placement made it 7-0.

Leetonia struck back when its fine quarterback, Ed Casey, fired a 20-yard touchdown pass to Tim Trombitas. DiCross added the conversion for an 8-7 halftime lead.

East Palestine went in front again on a four yard run by Joe Lewis but Leetonia came back in the third quarter to take a one point edge again when Conrad scored his first touchdown from the one.

Lewis brought the Bulldog fans to their feet when he raced 16 yards early in the final quarter to put East Palestine on top 21-14 before Conrad scored the clincher.

Indians Drop First

Sebring Edges Southern; Rose Scores 3, Gains 221

Another outstanding performance by Rich Rose came in a losing cause when Southern Local fell short to drop a 34-32 Friday night.

The loss was the first in four games for Southern which was ranked sixth among the Class A powers last week.

Rose turned in another brilliant effort gaining 221 yards and scored 20 points on three touchdowns and a conversion. The latest performance sent his total for four games to 102 points.

Trailing 34-30, Southern drove 93 yards in the last five minutes and had a first down on the Sebring five but a delay of game penalty backed the Indians to the 10 and their threat ended on the visitors three. With eight seconds to go Sebring gave Southern a safety then free kicked out of danger as the game ended.

Southern rolled up 455 yards to Sebring's 194 but the visitors intercepted three Indian passes.

Rose scored Southern's first three touchdowns on runs of 4, 52 and 23 yards. Sebring's Greg Wilson tallied four times for Sebring including three in the second quarter. His came on two 15 yard passes from Joe Bowers, a 45 yard pass interception and a 23 yard run. Bowers opened the scoring by racing 65 yards on the first play from scrimmage.

Sebring led at halftime 28-16 and both teams traded touchdowns in the third quarter. Southern came on strong in the fourth period but fell short of the goal on its final drive.

Ralph Dangelo scored Southern's touchdown in the fourth period going three yards to paydirt.

Wills To Rejoin Pirates Today

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Maury Wills, whose speed and cunning on the base paths shot him to stardom, cut short a run from the Pirates Friday on what he called the wise coaching of Pittsburgh's mayor and a couple of teen-agers.

The veteran third baseman said he would rejoin the team in Chicago today for the final two games of the season against the Cubs. But he insisted he still plans to retire if he isn't protected from the expansion draft.

Club officials said a suspension against Wills would be lifted if he makes it to Chicago.

Diddle, Bowersock Lead Beavers Over Oak Glen 19-0

BULLDOZING BOWERSOCK. Jim Bowersock of Beaver Local stiff-arms Ed Kirchner of Oak Glen during action at Newell last night. Beavers won 19-0.

70-Yard Score Opens Contest

Review Sports Editor

Bruce Diddle ran 70 yards from scrimmage for a TD on the first play of the game and Beaver Local went on to defeat Oak Glen 19-0 at Newell Memorial Stadium Friday night.

The win evened the Beavers' record under Dick Bryan at 2-2, while Alan Hoover is still looking for his first win after five games at the Oak Glen helm.

The Beavers, not attempting a single pass, rolled up 285 yards rushing, 174 by Diddle on 13 carries and 106 by Jim Bowersock in 13 carries. Bowersock burst 44 yards for a score in the second period and scored again with 2:22 left in the game, with the final score being set up by a 73-yard run by Diddle. Aside from the three long runs, the game was a defensive battle, with neither team being able to move consistently.

The Beaver Local linebacking corps of Scott Dubberly, Lew Brown and Diddle had another good game, keeping sophomore quarterback John Everly off balance. The defensive line, led by Gary Klembara and Tom Wolfe, generally halted the Golden Bears up the middle.

The Bears bottled up the center effectively, but Bowersock and Diddle got around the outside several times. On the first play Diddle cut off left tackle and went down the East sideline without a hand being laid on him, putting the Beavers on the scoreboard with only 35 seconds elapsed.

After forcing a punt, the Beavers got a break. Tim Mellon fumbled on the Beaver 15 and Bobby Coleman recovered for Oak Glen, but the Golden Bears were offside on the play, and the Beavers were able to punt out of danger.

The first quarter was a punting duel, producing only two first downs. With 9:41 left in the half Bowersock took a pitchout to the right, cut back over tackle and went 44 yards for the second Beaver score.

Oak Glen appeared to start moving when Everly completed a pass to Steve Staley for 13 yards, but a penalty nullified the play. There were no other passes attempted in the first half.

Near the end of the half Beaver Local drove from its own 33 to the Oak Glen 9, with Bowersock doing most of the running. But Mellon was caught attempting to pass on fourth down and the threat died.

The third quarter saw the only sustained Oak Glen drive of the night, as the Bears drove from their own 37 to the Beaver Local 26, helped by a roughing the kicker penalty. But the home team lost the ball on downs.

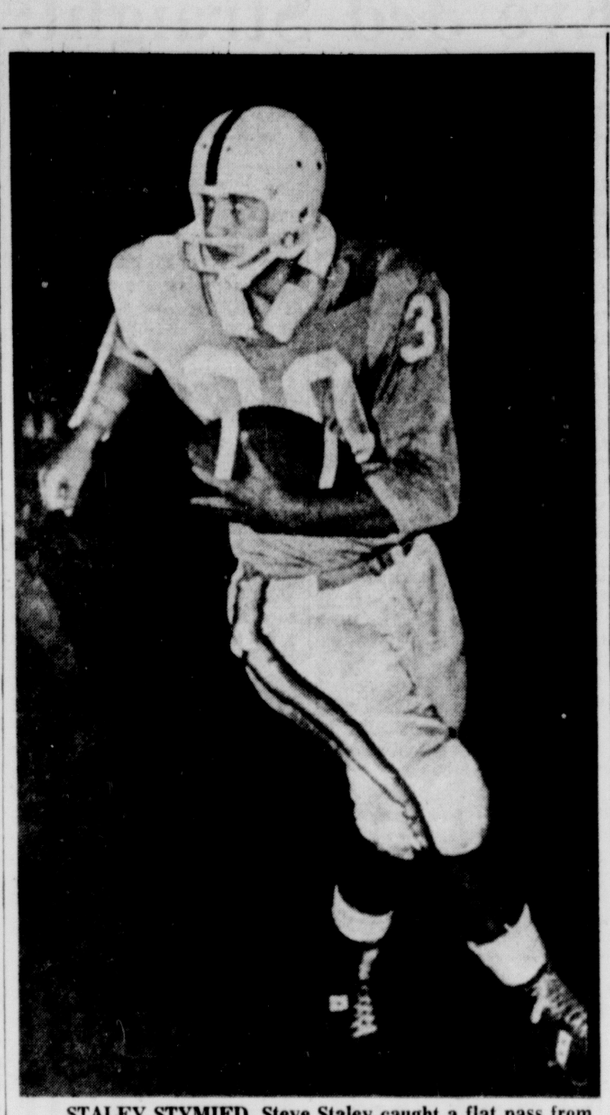

The deepest penetration for Oak Glen was in the last period, when Karl Sayre carried for 12 and then 26 yards to the 19, with the last man stopping him on the second run. On fourth and three at the 12 Sayre was stopped just short of a first down.

After Brown gained six yards, Diddle shot through left tackle again, but had to fight downfield traffic. He broke one tackle at the Oak Glen 40, and was finally knocked out of bounds by Gary Masters at the 11. Bowersock went around left end to score on the second play and Mellon sneaked over for the extra point.

Sayre was the leading rusher for Oak Glen with 66 yards in 10 carries. Greg Hobbbs, the leading rusher for the Bears, missed the game with a dislocated shoulder. Ed Kirchan missed the second half with an ankle injury.

Conrad Gets Clincher

Leetonia Nips Bulldogs, Boosts Record To 4-0

EAST PALESTINE — Leetonia set the stage for an important Tri-County League battle with Minerva next week by nipping East Palestine, 22-21, here Friday night.

A touchdown with 1:12 remaining in the game gave Leetonia the nod but a field goal attempt from the Leetonia 19 by East Palestine's Larry Rudloff with 20 seconds to go almost went through the uprights.

The undefeated Leetonia eleven marched 55 yards to score the winning touchdown as Tom Conrad went over from the one yard line for his second TD of the night and Ken DiCross added the crucial conversion.

East Palestine came right back and with 20 seconds to go marched to the Leetonia 19. Rudloff's placement had enough distance only to go wide to the right by inches.

The nip and tuck battle of the undefeated saw the host Bulldogs score first when Tim Blythe went over from the five yard line. Rudloff's placement made it 7-0.

Leetonia struck back when its fine quarterback, Ed Casey, fired a 20-yard touchdown pass to Tim Trombitas. DiCross added the conversion for an 8-7 halftime lead.

East Palestine went in front again on a four yard run by Joe Lewis but Leetonia came back in the third quarter to take a one point edge again when Conrad scored his first touchdown from the one.

Lewis brought the Bulldog fans to their feet when he raced 16 yards early in the final quarter to put East Palestine on top 21-14 before Conrad scored the clincher.

Indians Drop First

Sebring Edges Southern; Rose Scores 3, Gains 221

Another outstanding performance by Rich Rose came in a losing cause when Southern Local fell short to drop a 34-32 Friday night.

The loss was the first in four games for Southern which was ranked sixth among the Class A powers last week.

Rose turned in another brilliant effort gaining 221 yards and scored 20 points on three touchdowns and a conversion. The latest performance sent his total for four games to 102 points.

Trailing 34-30, Southern drove 93 yards in the last five minutes and had a first down on the Sebring five but a delay of game penalty backed the Indians to the 10 and their threat ended on the visitors three. With eight seconds to go Sebring gave Southern a safety then free kicked out of danger as the game ended.

Southern rolled up 455 yards to Sebring's 194 but the visitors intercepted three Indian passes.

Rose scored Southern's first three touchdowns on runs of 4, 52 and 23 yards. Sebring's Greg Wilson tallied four times for Sebring including three in the second quarter. His came on two 15 yard passes from Joe Bowers, a 45 yard pass interception and a 23 yard run. Bowers opened the scoring by racing 65 yards on the first play from scrimmage.

Sebring led at halftime 28-16 and both teams traded touchdowns in the third quarter. Southern came on strong in the fourth period but fell short of the goal on its final drive.

Ralph Dangelo scored Southern's touchdown in the fourth period going three yards to paydirt.

Blocked Punt Hurts

Western Outgains Mars, Loses On Errors 14-0

MARS — Fumbles and interceptions hurt Western Beaver in a 14-0 loss to the host Planets here Friday night.

Western outgained Mars 130-101, but had three passes intercepted and lost the ball three times on fumbles. One of the fumbles came when Western had driven to the one-yard line in the last period, and an interception stopped another drive inside the 20.

Mars scored on a 70-yard run by John Lucas in the second period and tallied in the third period when Bob Sliden blocked a Bill Ondra punt, scooped up the ball and ran 20 yards to paydirt. Paul Ciplock converted after both scores.

Mars, a WPIAL Class A school, is now 2-2, Western is 1-3, all three losses by shutouts.

JU Blanks Wellsville 18-0

Jefferson Union blanked Wellsville 18-0 and physically battered the Tigers in a football game at JU Friday night.

Denny Russell, the Tigers' fine defensive back, suffered a broken arm in the second quarter and will be out for the remainder of the season. John Weeda, the Tigers' leading rusher with 60 yards, suffered a cut over his eye that required seven stitches to close. Greg Brophey, substituting at quarterback for John Stephens, who was out with a knee injury, suffered a head injury in the second quarter and did not return. Sophomore Gary Rosenlieb took over the signal-calling and did a fine job.

The Yellowjackets scored on the last play of the first half as Charley Hoyman hit Bruce Clark with a 23-yard pass.

Wellsville took the second-half kickoff and drove to the two-yard line, but lost the ball on downs. In the fourth quarter Wellsville again drove to the two, with a first and goal, but lost the ball on a fumble.

The home team scored twice in the last five minutes, on runs by Rodney Young and Bill Shields.

The Yellowjackets played a ball-control game, amassing 22 first downs and 334 yards rushing. Young had 57, Shields 53 and Ron Pytash 51. Lehman Pearson had 46 for Wellsville to rank second to Weeda.

Tiger coach Howard Gilger, who suffered his third loss in four starts, said the team made too many mistakes. Jefferson Union is 2-2, 1-0 in Buckeye Border Conference play. Wellsville is 1-1 in league play.

Stanton Wins Second, Tops Springfield 23-16

Deadlocked 8-8 at halftime, Stanton struck for two second half touchdowns to hand host Springfield (Jefferson) a 23-16 setback Friday night.

Springfield, 0-4 for the season, moved in front 8-0 in the first quarter when John Bendle took a six-yard scoring pass from Bill Morgan and Tom Culp added the two-point conversion.

Stanton tied the game in the second half when Dave Olesky ran nine yards to paydirt. The touchdown drive started after an interception by Bob Holland on the Springfield 37. Olesky's run for the conversion tied the contest at 8-8.

In the third quarter, Coach Ken Woods' team, which is now 2-2 on the season, went in front for good. Mike Patterson grabbed a touchdown pass from Olesky covering 43 yards and Olesky ran the conversion for a 16-8 margin.

Wills To Rejoin Pirates Today

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Maury Wills, whose speed and cunning on the base paths shot him to stardom, cut short a run from the Pirates Friday on what he called the wise coaching of Pittsburgh's mayor and a couple of teen-agers.

The veteran third baseman said he would rejoin the team in Chicago today for the final two games of the season against the Cubs. But he insisted he still plans to retire if he isn't protected from the expansion draft.

Club officials said a suspension against Wills would be lifted if he makes it to Chicago.

Packers, Lions In Key Game

Vikings Eye 3rd Straight; Los Angeles Tests Browns

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Vikings of Minnesota, displaying the daring their name connotales, will go after their third straight National Football League victory Sunday against a Chicago Bear who hopes to awaken from a puzzling early-season hibernation.

The surprising Vikings again will count on a wide-open offense which they used to smash Atlanta in the season opener and upset Green Bay last week.

Running back Ron Bull is out, but Gale Sayers, who has a bruised back, is expected to start for the Bears, upset by Washington and then smashed 42-0 by Detroit last week. To come out of their tailspin, the Bears will have to jell on defense and quarterbacks Jack Concannon and Larry Rakestraw will have to find the range. Detroit intercepted eight Chicago passes.

Detroit, 1-1, is at Green Bay, 1-1, in one of the seven other NFL games Sunday.

Elsewhere, Los Angeles, 2-0, is at Cleveland, 1-1; Dallas, 2-0, at Philadelphia, 0-2; Baltimore, 2-0, at Pittsburgh, 0-2; Washington, 1-1, at New York 2-0; Atlanta, 0-2, at San Francisco, 1-1, and St. Louis, 0-2, at New Orleans, 1-1.

The Detroit-Green Bay game is a key one for both clubs, who trail Minnesota in the Central Division.

Green Bay, which again will count on the passing of Bart Starr and the running of versatile Donny Anderson, will have to stop the passing of Detroit's Bill Munson and the receiving of Earl McCullouch. Linebacker Mike Lucci is a doubtful starter for Detroit.

Cleveland linebacker Dale Lindsey is a doubtful starter, and the Browns will need all the defense they can get against a Los Angeles club that moves behind Roman Gabriel's passing to a host of talented receivers and sound running attack. Cleveland's Frank Ryan should be busy with a Ram defense that is rough on quarterbacks.

Dallas takes the highest-scoring offense, 87 points, and best defense, 20 points, into Philadelphia. The Cowboys might be without defensive tackle Jethro Pugh, but they shouldn't need him against the hapless Eagles.

Johnny Unitas, who has yet to play this season because of a sore elbow, again is expected to turn the quarterbacking duties over to Earl Morrall, and Earl and his mates are expected to have little trouble against Pittsburgh, hit hard by injuries before the season even started.

Washington, which upset Chicago and was upset by New Orleans, will need a big day from passing artist Sonny Jurgensen and will have to stop scrambling Fran Tarkenton to get by New York. The loss of linebacker Vince Costello with a knee injury could hurt the New York pass rush.

Atlanta, which gave Baltimore a tough battle, will have to be tough again against San Francisco, which got a good performance from quarterback John Brodie in beating St. Louis last week.

And St. Louis won't have an easy time in trying to make New Orleans its first victim of the season. The loss of linebacker Dave Meggysey with a concussion could hurt the Cardinals, who will have to stop the running of Don McCall as well as the passing of scrambling Billy Kilmer.

Principals To Decide On All-Star Game

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than 300 high school principals will decide in a mail referendum whether the Ohio High School Athletic Association should sanction all-star football and basketball games.

The OHSAA's Board of Control handed the hot issue over to the principals Friday after the six-member board became deadlocked 3-3 on whether to improve or reject sanction of the games.

OHSAA Commissioner Paul Landis, who has spoken out in favor of the games, does not have a tie-breaking vote.

A tie by the board normally is tantamount to defeat. But board member Homer C. Neff kept the issue alive by proposing the referendum.

The referendum probably will be mailed sometime next week, an OHSAA spokesman said, with results expected to be announced in mid-October. A simple majority is needed for approval.

The board has maintained since 1961 that it has no jurisdiction over graduating athletes, on or after June 1.

Both all-star games are played in the summer, the basketball game in late June in Marion and the football game in August at Canton. They have been conducted under approval of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Ohio high school football and basketball coaches want OHSAA sanction of the games because the NCAA has a tough 60-40 financial formula requiring that total expenses not exceed 60 per cent of gate receipts.

Both all-star games have had trouble meeting such stiff standards.

Oakland, Houston Meet In Top Tilt

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Oakland Raiders, champions of the American Football League, will be after their 13th consecutive regular season victory when they go against the Houston Oilers in the Astrodome Sunday.

The game, a rematch of last year's championship AFL title contest which Oakland won, highlights AFL activity this weekend.

The Kansas City Chiefs and the Miami Dolphins kickoff the program in the Orange Bowl tonight. On Sunday, in addition to the Oakland at Houston game, San Diego is at Cincinnati, New York at Buffalo and Boston at Denver.

Daryle Lamonica, who threw four touchdown passes last week against Miami, is expected to lead Oakland over Houston for the Raiders' third straight of the season.

The Raiders haven't lost a regular season AFL game since they fell before the New York Jets 27-14 on the road in their fourth game of the 1967 campaign. They reeled off 10 in a row after that to win the Western Division crown with a 13-1 mark and have won their first two starts this season.

San Diego, tied with Oakland for the lead in the Western Division, is favored over the surprising Cincinnati Bengals. The Bengals, who have won two of their three games, face their toughest task to date against the likes of John Hadl, Lance Alworth and Dick Post.

"We will have to have some good bobbles and bounces to beat them," said Paul Brown, Cincinnati coach.

The New York Jets, unbeaten Eastern Division leaders, are heavily favored to whip winless Buffalo for their third in a row behind Joe Namath's passing. Boston is expected to hand Denver its third straight defeat although the Patriots will lack the services of hard-running Jim Nance because of an ankle injury.

Kansas City, beaten only by the Jets in three starts this year, is expected to keep its record clean against Miami in tonight's game.

Gibson Hurls Shutout In Tuneup For Series

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bring on the Tigers. Bob Gibson is ready.

The St. Louis ace, tuning up for the World Series against Detroit, hurled his 13th shutout of the season Friday night and shattered a 53-year-old pitching record while doing it.

Gibson beat Houston 1-0 and lowered his earned run averge to 1.12, breaking the National League mark of 1.22 set by Philadelphia's Grover Cleveland Alexander in 1915. It was the 22nd victory of the season—a personal high—for the big right-hander.

Gibson's performance was typical of 1968's pitcher-dominated season and so was Pete Rose's move into the batting lead.

Cincinnati's Rose had one hit in seven at bats as the Reds dropped a 15-inning game to San Francisco, 3-2. Rose's average dipped two points to .300 but Pittsburgh's Matty Alou was 0-for-4 as the Pirates bowed to Chicago, 4-1, and dropped three points to .329.

In other National League games, Los Angeles topped Atlanta 5-2 and Philadelphia edged New York 3-2 in 11 innings.

In the American League, Boston walloped New York 12-2, Cleveland blanked Baltimore 2-0, Washington dropped Detroit 3-1, Oakland tripped Minnesota 8-4 and the Chicago White Sox defeated California 5-1.

Willie Mays broke up the Giants game with a leadoff homer in the 15th inning against Cincinnati's Ted Abernathy. It was Mays' 23rd of the year and career No. 587.

The loss shoved the Reds into a third place tie with the Cubs, who defeated Pittsburgh. Lee May homered for Cincinnati.

Al Spangler's eighth pinch hit of the season—a two-run double in the seventh inning—helped the Cubs get past Pittsburgh.

Tom Haller drove in three runs with a double and triple, leading the Dodgers past the Braves. Haller's triple in the ninth inning broke a 2-2 tie, scoring Jim Fairey and Willie Davis, who had singled.

The Phillies edged the Mets in the 11th inning when Gary Sutherland opened a bloop double and scored on Cookie Rojas' pop fly single.

Club President Says Senators Are For Sale

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washingtn Senators are for sale, the club president says.

So far there have been no firm offers for the last-place American League team, president James H. Lemon said Friday.

But Lemon said the sale is inevitable because of the death of his partner last year

Controversial former baseball executive Bill Veeck confirmed he made an offer last year and it was rejected. Veeck said he is no longer interested.

Comedian Bob Hope insisted he was in Washington to play golf, not buy a baseball club.

Veeck and Lemon both indicated the asking price for the team was around $10 million.

The Senators plunged from sixth to 10th place in the league this year and suffered a 30 per cent drop in attendance.

Cruz And Saijyo Win Title Bouts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Carlos "Teo" Cruz of the Dominican Republic won his first defense of the lightweight title while in the companion championship 15-round bout, Japan's Sho Saijyo wrested a share of the featherweight crown.

The 30-year-old Cruz built up an early lead over 19-year-old challenger Mando Ramos of Long Beach, Calif., to score his unanimous decision in Friday night's outdoor show at the Coliseum.

Then came Saijyo of Tokyo to consistently beat Raul Rojas of nearby San Pedro to the punch and pile up an impressive array of points to take the World Boxing Association's 126-pound title.

Win Cage Games

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP) — Poland and Spain won the opening games Friday in the pre-Olympics basketball tournament. Poland defeated Australia 64-58 and Spain whipped Indonesia 105-69.

Vikings Eye 3rd Straight; Los Angeles Tests Browns

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Vikings of Minnesota, displaying the daring their name connotales, will go after their third straight National Football League victory Sunday against a Chicago Bear who hopes to awaken from a puzzling early-season hibernation.

The surprising Vikings again will count on a wide-open offense which they used to smash Atlanta in the season opener and upset Green Bay last week.

Running back Ron Bull is out, but Gale Sayers, who has a bruised back, is expected to start for the Bears, upset by Washington and then smashed 42-0 by Detroit last week. To come out of their tailspin, the Bears will have to jell on defense and quarterbacks Jack Concannon and Larry Rakestraw will have to find the range. Detroit intercepted eight Chicago passes.

Detroit, 1-1, is at Green Bay, 1-1, in one of the seven other NFL games Sunday.

Elsewhere, Los Angeles, 2-0, is at Cleveland, 1-1; Dallas, 2-0, at Philadelphia, 0-2; Baltimore, 2-0, at Pittsburgh, 0-2; Washington, 1-1, at New York 2-0; Atlanta, 0-2, at San Francisco, 1-1, and St. Louis, 0-2, at New Orleans, 1-1.

The Detroit-Green Bay game is a key one for both clubs, who trail Minnesota in the Central Division.

Green Bay, which again will count on the passing of Bart Starr and the running of versatile Donny Anderson, will have to stop the passing of Detroit's Bill Munson and the receiving of Earl McCullouch. Linebacker Mike Lucci is a doubtful starter for Detroit.

Cleveland linebacker Dale Lindsey is a doubtful starter, and the Browns will need all the defense they can get against a Los Angeles club that moves behind Roman Gabriel's passing to a host of talented receivers and sound running attack. Cleveland's Frank Ryan should be busy with a Ram defense that is rough on quarterbacks.

Dallas takes the highest-scoring offense, 87 points, and best defense, 20 points, into Philadelphia. The Cowboys might be without defensive tackle Jethro Pugh, but they shouldn't need him against the hapless Eagles.

Johnny Unitas, who has yet to play this season because of a sore elbow, again is expected to turn the quarterbacking duties over to Earl Morrall, and Earl and his mates are expected to have little trouble against Pittsburgh, hit hard by injuries before the season even started.

Washington, which upset Chicago and was upset by New Orleans, will need a big day from passing artist Sonny Jurgensen and will have to stop scrambling Fran Tarkenton to get by New York. The loss of linebacker Vince Costello with a knee injury could hurt the New York pass rush.

Atlanta, which gave Baltimore a tough battle, will have to be tough again against San Francisco, which got a good performance from quarterback John Brodie in beating St. Louis last week.

And St. Louis won't have an easy time in trying to make New Orleans its first victim of the season. The loss of linebacker Dave Meggysey with a concussion could hurt the Cardinals, who will have to stop the running of Don McCall as well as the passing of scrambling Billy Kilmer.

Principals To Decide On All-Star Game

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than 300 high school principals will decide in a mail referendum whether the Ohio High School Athletic Association should sanction all-star football and basketball games.

The OHSAA's Board of Control handed the hot issue over to the principals Friday after the six-member board became deadlocked 3-3 on whether to improve or reject sanction of the games.

OHSAA Commissioner Paul Landis, who has spoken out in favor of the games, does not have a tie-breaking vote.

A tie by the board normally is tantamount to defeat. But board member Homer C. Neff kept the issue alive by proposing the referendum.

The referendum probably will be mailed sometime next week, an OHSAA spokesman said, with results expected to be announced in mid-October. A simple majority is needed for approval.

The board has maintained since 1961 that it has no jurisdiction over graduating athletes, on or after June 1.

Both all-star games are played in the summer, the basketball game in late June in Marion and the football game in August at Canton. They have been conducted under approval of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Ohio high school football and basketball coaches want OHSAA sanction of the games because the NCAA has a tough 60-40 financial formula requiring that total expenses not exceed 60 per cent of gate receipts.

Both all-star games have had trouble meeting such stiff standards.

Oakland, Houston Meet In Top Tilt

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Oakland Raiders, champions of the American Football League, will be after their 13th consecutive regular season victory when they go against the Houston Oilers in the Astrodome Sunday.

The game, a rematch of last year's championship AFL title contest which Oakland won, highlights AFL activity this weekend.

The Kansas City Chiefs and the Miami Dolphins kickoff the program in the Orange Bowl tonight. On Sunday, in addition to the Oakland at Houston game, San Diego is at Cincinnati, New York at Buffalo and Boston at Denver.

Daryle Lamonica, who threw four touchdown passes last week against Miami, is expected to lead Oakland over Houston for the Raiders' third straight of the season.

The Raiders haven't lost a regular season AFL game since they fell before the New York Jets 27-14 on the road in their fourth game of the 1967 campaign. They reeled off 10 in a row after that to win the Western Division crown with a 13-1 mark and have won their first two starts this season.

San Diego, tied with Oakland for the lead in the Western Division, is favored over the surprising Cincinnati Bengals. The Bengals, who have won two of their three games, face their toughest task to date against the likes of John Hadl, Lance Alworth and Dick Post.

"We will have to have some good bobbles and bounces to beat them," said Paul Brown, Cincinnati coach.

The New York Jets, unbeaten Eastern Division leaders, are heavily favored to whip winless Buffalo for their third in a row behind Joe Namath's passing. Boston is expected to hand Denver its third straight defeat although the Patriots will lack the services of hard-running Jim Nance because of an ankle injury.

Kansas City, beaten only by the Jets in three starts this year, is expected to keep its record clean against Miami in tonight's game.

Gibson Hurls Shutout In Tuneup For Series

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bring on the Tigers, Bob Gibson is ready.

The St. Louis ace, tuning up for the World Series against Detroit, hurled his 13th shutout of the season Friday night and shattered a 53-year-old pitching record while doing it.

Gibson beat Houston 1-0 and lowered his earned run averge to 1.12, breaking the National League mark of 1.22 set by Philadelphia's Grover Cleveland Alexander in 1915. It was the 22nd victory of the season—a personal high—for the big right-hander.

Gibson's performance was typical of 1968's pitcher-dominated season and so was Pete Rose's move into the batting lead.

Cincinnati's Rose had one hit in seven at bats as the Reds dropped a 15-inning game to San Francisco, 3-2. Rose's average dipped two points to .300 but Pittsburgh's Matty Alou was 0-for-4 as the Pirates bowed to Chicago, 4-1, and dropped three points to .329.

In other National League games, Los Angeles topped Atlanta 5-2 and Philadelphia edged New York 3-2 in 11 innings.

In the American League, Boston walloped New York 12-2, Cleveland blanked Baltimore 2-0, Washington dropped Detroit 3-1, Oakland tripped Minnesota 8-4 and the Chicago White Sox defeated California 5-1.

Willie Mays broke up the Giants game with a leadoff homer in the 15th inning against Cincinnati's Ted Abernathy. It was Mays' 23rd of the year and career No. 587.

The loss shoved the Reds into a third place tie with the Cubs, who defeated Pittsburgh. Lee May homered for Cincinnati.

Al Spangler's eighth pinch hit of the season—a two-run double in the seventh inning—helped the Cubs get past Pittsburgh.

Tom Haller drove in three runs with a double and triple, leading the Dodgers past the Braves. Haller's triple in the ninth inning broke a 2-2 tie, scoring Jim Fairey and Willie Davis, who had singled.

The Phillies edged the Mets in the 11th inning when Gary Sutherland opened a bloop double and scored on Cookie Rojas' pop fly single.

Club President Says Senators Are For Sale

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washingtn Senators are for sale, the club president says.

So far there have been no firm offers for the last-place American League team, president James H. Lemon said Friday.

But Lemon said the sale is inevitable because of the death of his partner last year

Controversial former baseball executive Bill Veeck confirmed he made an offer last year and it was rejected. Veeck said he is no longer interested.

Comedian Bob Hope insisted he was in Washington to play golf, not buy a baseball club.

Veeck and Lemon both indicated the asking price for the team was around $10 million.

The Senators plunged from sixth to 10th place in the league this year and suffered a 30 per cent drop in attendance.

Cruz And Saijyo Win Title Bouts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Carlos "Teo" Cruz of the Dominican Republic won his first defense of the lightweight title while in the companion championship 15-round bout, Japan's Sho Saijyo wrested a share of the featherweight crown.

The 30-year-old Cruz built up an early lead over 19-year-old challenger Mando Ramos of Long Beach, Calif., to score his unanimous decision in Friday night's outdoor show at the Coliseum.

Then came Saijyo of Tokyo to consistently beat Raul Rojas of nearby San Pedro to the punch and pile up an impressive array of points to take the World Boxing Association's 126-pound title.

Win Cage Games

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP) — Poland and Spain won the opening games Friday in the pre-Olympics basketball tournament. Poland defeated Australia 64-58 and Spain whipped Indonesia 105-69.

The DOCTOR Says

Smoking May Cause Premature Births

Q — In what week of pregnancy would a woman notice her abdomen beginning to protrude? How soon after conception do breast ABCDEFGHIJK changes occur?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — The increase in the size of the abdomen in pregnancy comes about so gradually it is hard to pinpoint the moment when it becomes unmistakable. This varies greatly with a woman's body build and somewhat with the sharpness of the eyes of the observer. In general, pregnancy begins to show in most women after nine or 10 weeks. Breast changes occur at about the same time but these are more noticeable in a first pregnancy than in subsequent ones.

Q — Can a woman whose monthly periods last only a day or two become pregnant and have a normal child?

A — Yes, unless some other abnormality exists.

Q — What effect would excessive smoking (three packs a day) and drinking (six cans of beer a day) by a mother have on her fetus?

A — The only effect heavy smoking has been shown to have on a pregnancy is to cause miscarriage or premature birth. But this should be sufficient reason to quit smoking or at least limit your smoking to half a pack a day.

—:—

ALTHOUGH information on the effect of a mother's drinking is not so specific, authorities agree that it is harmful. If you would hesitate to give a newborn baby a shot of whisky, you should remember that part of all you drink will find its way to the fetus through the umbilical cord.

Q — Is it safe for a pregnant woman to exercise, wear a girdle or sleep on her stomach? Why, in the first two months of pregnancy, do the breasts get so large?

A — All pregnant women who are in good health should get some exercise daily. The amount to be recommended would depend on the stage of pregnancy and other factors and should be determined by your doctor. When your regular girdle begins to feel tight, you should switch to an adjustable girdle. Sleeping on your stomach will have no harmful effect in early pregnancy. Later, it will be awkward and you will naturally find a more comfortable position.

THE BODY changes accompanying pregnancy are controlled by your hormones. They are aimed at nourishing the new baby, both before and after birth. Why the breast changes occur so far ahead of time is anybody's guess.

New York Talks Break Down In Teacher Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Hopes for a Monday end to the 11-day school strike were dashed today as Albert Shanker, president of the striking United Federation of Teachers, announced "a complete breakdown in negotiations."

The head of the 55,000-member UFT emerged at 12:35 a.m. from a meeting with Mayor John V. Lindsay at City Hall and declared: "There has been no progress and there is not even a schedule for resumption of talks."

Only 24 hours earlier both Shanker and Lindsay had expressed optimism that the racially tense walkout might be ended with teachers resuming classes for 1.1 million public school pupils on Monday.

Shanker blamed the breakdown on Schools Supt. Bernard E. Donovan and the Board of Educatiin, charging they would not provide for neutral observers or the proper use of 110 disputed teachers in a Brooklyn slum school district.

4-H News

"How to Pin in a Hem" was demonstrated by Debbie Roseburg when the Fashionettes 4-H Club met Monday night. Nine, including new members Cathy Danner and Cindy McKarns, answered the roll call giving a method of caring for clothes.

Jackie Kireta led devotions and the pledge to the flag and 4-H pledge. Barbara McPherson, president, conducted the business session.

A roller skating party was discussed and the possibility of programs being conducted for the Franklin PTO and the Bethesda Church Secret Sister party.

Charades were played. Refreshments were served by Jackie and Barbara McPherson. The next meeting will be Oct. 7 at 7:30 at the Township House. Officers for the 1969 year will be elected.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I clean bone or ivory cutlery handles?

A. — You can do a fine job of this with a smooth paste made of whiting and lemon juice. Allow the paste to dry on the handles for a few minutes before rinsing and polishing.

Q. — How can I keep the copper-bottomed pans which are so decorative hanging above my stove from tarnishing?

A. — By coating them with a thin film of cream wax after they have been cleaned. Treated this way, they will retain their luster.

Q. — Is there an easy and effective way to deal with fine hairline cracks that have appeared in my plaster walls and ceilings?

A. — These can be filled in without use of spackle or plaster by using ordinary sticks of white chalk. Rub vigorously back and forth over the crack until it is filled in. On white surfaces this forms an excellent temporary repair which will need no further touching up until time for the next paint job.

Q. — How can I remove ink stains from fabrics?

A. — By rubbing boiled rice over the stain, then washing the article in clean water. Another effective treatment is soaking the article in milk.

The DOCTOR Says

Smoking May Cause Premature Births

Q — In what week of pregnancy would a woman notice her abdomen beginning to protrude? How soon after conception do breast changes occur?

Dr. Brandstadt

A — The increase in the size of the abdomen in pregnancy comes about so gradually it is hard to pinpoint the moment when it becomes unmistakable. This varies greatly with a woman's body build and somewhat with the sharpness of the eyes of the observer. In general, pregnancy begins to show in most women after nine or 16 weeks. Breast changes occur at about the same time but these are more noticeable in a first pregnancy than in subsequent ones.

Q — Can a woman whose monthly periods last only a day or two become pregnant and have a normal child?

A — Yes, unless some other abnormality exists.

Q — What effect would excessive smoking (three packs a day) and drinking (six cans of beer a day) by a mother have on her fetus?

A — The only effect heavy smoking has been shown to have on a pregnancy is to cause miscarriage or premature birth. But this should be sufficient reason to quit smoking or at least limit your smoking to half a pack a day.

—:—

ALTHOUGH information on the effect of a mother's drinking is not so specific, authorities agree that it is harmful. If you would hesitate to give a newborn baby a shot of whisky, you should remember that part of all you drink will find its way to the fetus through the umbilical cord.

Q — Is it safe for a pregnant woman to exercise, wear a girdle or sleep on her stomach? Why, in the first two months of pregnancy, do the breasts get so large?

A — All pregnant women who are in good health should get some exercise daily. The amount to be recommended would depend on the stage of pregnancy and other factors and should be determined by your doctor. When your regular girdle begins to feel tight, you should switch to an adjustable girdle. Sleeping on your stomach will have no harmful effect in early pregnancy. Later, it will be awkward and you will naturally find a more comfortable position.

THE BODY changes accompanying pregnancy are controlled by your hormones. They are aimed at nourishing the new baby, both before and after birth. Why the breast changes occur so far ahead of time is anybody's guess.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

New York Talks Break Down In Teacher Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Hopes for a Monday end to the 11-day school strike were dashed today as Albert Shanker, president of the striking United Federation of Teachers, announced "a complete breakdown in negotiations."

The head of the 55,000-member UFT emerged at 12:35 a.m. from a meeting with Mayor John V. Lindsay at City Hall and declared: "There has been no progress and there is not even a schedule for resumption of talks."

Only 24 hours earlier both Shanker and Lindsay had expressed optimism that the racially tense walkout might be ended with teachers resuming classes for 1.1 million public school pupils on Monday.

Shanker blamed the breakdown on Schools Supt. Bernard E. Donovan and the Board of Educatiin, charging they would not provide for neutral observers or the proper use of 110 disputed teachers in a Brooklyn slum school district.

4-H News

"How to Pin in a Hem" was demonstrated by Debbie Roseburg when the Fashionettes 4-H Club met Monday night. Nine, including new members Cathy Danner and Cindy McKarns, answered the roll call giving a method of caring for clothes.

Jackie Kireta led devotions and the pledge to the flag and 4-H pledge. Barbara McPherson, president, conducted the business session.

A roller skating party was discussed and the possibility of programs being conducted for the Franklin PTO and the Bethesda Church Secret Sister party.

Charades were played. Refreshments were served by Jackie and Barbara McPherson. The next meeting will be Oct. 7 at 7:30 at the Township House. Officers for the 1969 year will be elected.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I clean bone or ivory cutlery handles?

A. — You can do a fine job of this with a smooth paste made of whiting and lemon juice. Allow the paste to dry on the handles for a few minutes before rinsing and polishing.

Q. — How can I keep the copper-bottomed pans which are so decorative hanging above my stove from tarnishing?

A. — By coating them with a thin film of cream wax after they have been cleaned. Treated this way, they will retain their luster.

Q. — Is there an easy and effective way to deal with fine hairline cracks that have appeared in my plaster walls and ceilings?

A. — These can be filled in without use of spackle or plaster by using ordinary sticks of white chalk. Rub vigorously back and forth over the crack until it is filled in. On white surfaces this forms an excellent temporary repair which will need no further touching up until time for the next paint job.

Q. — How can I remove ink stains from fabrics?

A. — By rubbing boiled rice over the stain, then washing the article in clean water. Another effective treatment is soaking the article in milk.

Junior Editors Quiz on TRUFFLES

QUESTION: Where are truffles found and what are they used for?

* * * *

ANSWER: Truffles are a kind of fungus. They grow underground, and may be from a quarter inch to four inches around. These dark, lumpy looking things would seem unlikely objects for people to eat. Yet it happens that truffles are really delicious and are in great demand. They grow in England, France, and other parts of Europe where they are very popular, for they are gourmet items, widely served as condiments and in salads. The problem with truffles is not eating them, but finding them, for no part of this fungus appears above ground. Certain animals with an extremely keen sense of smell can detect the odor of a truffle and then dig underground to find it. Pigs are widely used for this purpose. Our artist has illustrated a French farmer and his prized pig. The happy ending is true, for it is customary to reward the pig so that he'll be encouraged to go on truffle hunting. Truffle hounds are often trained and used for the same purpose.

(Rickey Shockley of Woodside, Del., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
